

Proper Respect Appears Lacking Toward U.S. Flag

By Leonard Randolph
YOU CAN call this a memo to people watching a parade. Memorial Day is a national holiday. In most communities the memory takes on the outer trappings of a "celebration." Almost always there is a parade. Thursday was no exception in Stroudsburg. The parade lined up, moved out, halted for "Taps", moved on again. When it was over a woman pushing a baby in a stroller stopped a reporter and asked: "You write for the local paper, don't you? Why don't you write something about the attitude people have toward the flag? Don't people ever pay any attention when

It goes by anymore?" She was right. Flags were in evidence in the local parade line of march and along the street at store fronts. But hardly anyone paid attention to them. In a group of more than 40 children lined up near Seventh and Main only one little girl was holding a child's American flag. She held it reverently, handled it with care and looked at it with obvious love. Her father, she said later, is still stationed in Korea. For her, the flag was like a link with him. But there was almost nothing personal in the way others who watched regarded the flag or the marching soldiers. For them the parade seemed to be music, a solid drumbeat, the shrill throb of bugles in the air. There are many ways to look at the flag. It is a piece of cloth, striped with bright colors and stars, held on a staff. It is something for "special" occasions. It is an object to which school children recite a pledge each day of their scholastic lives—a pledge they have learned by rote, and say without particular feeling. The flag is, more than anything else, a symbol. Like all symbols it has a meaning far beyond the time in which it flies, the way it is used. In the beginning it was a symbol of freedom, of the striving of a new and bountiful nation, of the sacrifice which had gone into the making of liberty for Man. Red blood was spilled to make the stripes and there was symbolic light in the white running beside them—the light of a goal which was high, mountain-high, and could be reached only through sacrifice. The stars played a part in the American dream, too. It was a dream no nation had ever set out before, on a national scale, to make truth. And slowly liberty did become reality. The flag became a symbol to other nations that it could be so. Through the years since it was born, that flag has come to mean more and more to men and women in remote corners of the earth. In Korea, after World War Two, when the Seventh Infantry Division marched into Seoul, one of the small girls in the crowd along the street held a flag which was badly-made, constructed of torn red, white and blue stripes from oriental clothing and containing only 13 stars—but it was an American flag. Yesterday there were fine, well-made flags on Stroudsburg's Main St., but they caught no one's eye in passing. The "parade" was something to watch idly, to single out a brother or a sister; something to laugh about when the Gateway Post's old car went by. In the eyes and the faces of the bystanders, there was something akin to detachment. Someone needed to say: Look! You don't have to be a "flag-waver" to love this piece of cloth. You don't have to be a hero to know that it stands for something more precious than any government on earth could offer you now. If you love freedom, you must love this flag; more than all the oratory in America, this flag speaks for you and your children and me.

"I can remember when we were little kids, I used to get tears in my eyes when the flag went by," an older woman said. In one face, near the inner rim of the crowd, there was still some of that fervor. He was an old man, tired by the years of parades and wars and life and death around him. But there was a bright glitter in his eyelashes. And—for a moment, at least, the American flag flew a little more proudly in the slight wind of Memorial Day. Until then—and after—only the commanding officers of the troops in the line of march saluted as they passed by the corner. The emotion in the old man's eyes may not have accomplished anything. But there were still a few people in the crowd who remembered the glory of the flag, who knew that it is not something to symbolize a war alone, who saw it as a symbol constructed of live and sacrifice. They were the ones who remembered, too, that flags drape the drab austerity of service coffins with compassion and with dignity.

STUDENT'S DILEMMA — For the month of June, what could be more typical than the problems facing Monroe County's graduating seniors. Where to find a job? Where (and if) to go to college? What profession do I want? Should I get married? When? Will I ever get what I want out of life? Here Cecilia G. Pritchard, 1714 N. Senate Sorrows Over Decision By Britain

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Senatorial leaders signaled today reluctant acceptance, as an accomplished fact, of Britain's decision to step up its trade with Communist China. Republican Leader Knowland of California told the Senate this decision may eventually topple the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong into the hands of a strengthened China. But Knowland, chief congressional defender of Nationalist China and critic of the mainland regime, spoke of Britain's course in tones more in sorrow than in anger. It was evident that Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, the Democratic leader, accepted the British decision as one that might be questioned but not easily controverted. Johnson declined public comment. But it was understood he and other leaders had been informed shortly after the March Bermuda conference of British intentions to relax the embargo against Red China. Some State Department officials had feared that an explosion in Congress might strain American relations with Britain. Over U.S. objections, Britain announced yesterday a decision to lower its China trade barriers to the level maintained with Soviet Russia and her European satellites. The Japanese were disturbed over the possibility of a break in free world cooperation as a result of the British decision. Tokyo dispatches said the Japanese Cabinet is offering to help mediate the issue. U.S. officials privately expressed speedy interest in Japan's mediation proposals.

Safety Experts Voice Praise For Drivers During Holiday

SAFETY EXPERTS voiced high praise yesterday for the nation's drivers and traffic officers following a marked drop in highway deaths before, during and after Memorial Day. "Let's keep it up over the weekend and from there on in," pleaded Ned H. Dearborn, president of the National Safety Council. The 30-hour period between 6 p.m. Wednesday and midnight Thursday saw a total of only 164 lives lost — 94 traffic fatalities, 37 drownings and 33 deaths in other tragedies related to Memorial Day activities. The NSC had predicted 120 car deaths during the time. With many persons throughout the country extending the holiday to the weekend, casualties continued to mount but the increase was slow. Total As of 6 p.m. yesterday the total had reached only 212—125 in traffic, 48 drownings and 39 from other causes. "Despite the inevitable surge of traffic on a holiday, the Memorial Day toll ran only slightly ahead of the toll for a nonholiday period of the same number of hours, same day, at this time of the year," Dearborn said. "It also ran well below our estimate of 120 deaths. The drivers deserve a pat on the back for this evidence of increased care and courtesy on the highway. So do the traffic enforcement agencies and officers for their activities." The normal death count for a nonholiday Thursday at this time of the year is 75, the NSC said. In a survey made by The Associated Press two weeks ago, covering 40 hours between 6 p.m. Wednesday, May 15, through midnight Thursday, May 16, there were 85 traffic deaths. Last year, when Memorial Day came on a Wednesday, there were 109 traffic fatalities, 32 drownings and 33 miscellaneous deaths during the same 30-hour time. The NSC traffic estimate then was 110.

Defense Brass Under Fire Of Congress

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Defense Department brass came under a congressional fire today on the question of installment buying by the Air Force. Two top Pentagon officials were asked to appear before a Senate subcommittee next Tuesday and explain a directive which Sen. Symington (D-Mo) contends would prevent the Air Force from using unobligated funds voted by Congress in previous years. It is understood the directive was issued to meet the objections of Rep. Mahon (D-Tex) to what Mahon described as an Air Force practice of "over-programming" in its appropriation requests. Chairman Mahon is chairman of a House Appropriations subcommittee which handles the defense budget. Symington is a member of a similar subcommittee in the Senate. Deputy Secretary of Defense Donald A. Quarles and Asst. Secretary of Defense Wilfred J. McNeil were summoned before the Senate subcommittee for questioning. Quarles and McNeil are expected to tell the Senate group the directive was issued under pressure from Mahon on the House side. The House Appropriations Committee, in reporting out a sharply cut defense budget earlier this month, said laws and regulations require the military services to set forth precisely what they want to buy and to keep their procurement schedules within the dollar amounts voted for the purpose.

Investigators Propose New Lobby Practices

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Senate investigators today proposed new, tougher laws to curb what they called "pernicious" and "dangerous" lobbying practices. They also came out for modernizing the statutes on election financing. Whether the legislation they urged will be enacted or even get very far in Congress this session is questionable. Their projected "Legislative Activities Disclosure Act" and "Political Activities Disclosure Act" would rely heavily on the light of full publicity "to cure the evils and mischief found to exist" after a year's inquiry. Committee The investigation was conducted by a special committee of four Democrats and four Republicans, headed by Sen. McClellan (D-Ark). The group reached complete agreement on a bill to bring about greater exposure of direct and indirect attempts to put pressure on Congress and influence legislation. "A secondary aim," the committee said in a report to the Senate, "is the outright prohibition of certain pernicious practices." It would become a felony, for example to send spurious, forged telegrams or other communications to members of Congress—practices the committee said are reprehensible, dangerous and "pollute the stream of our legislative processes." The committee members fell short of unanimity on legislation to update the law covering election campaign contributions and expenditures. This proposal would remove the ceiling on the amount that can be spent for presidential and vice-presidential campaigns, since for practical purposes there is none now. It would raise the spending limit on Senate and House elections. By exempting $100 of campaign donations from income tax, it would attempt to encourage contributions from ordinary individuals and reduce candidates' reliance on financial help from the wealthy. The committee split 4-4 and omitted from the elections bill any provision for applying it to primary campaigns—which in effect determine the general election winners in much of the South. McClellan submitted the committee report to the Senate and introduced the new lobby bill.

Circus Makes Return To Pocono Area

By Leonard Randolph
THERE'S AN OLD wife's tale in Africa that elephants have a secret burial ground. Yesterday it began to appear that, if there is an American happy hunting grounds for circuses, Monroe County may be it. Out at Tannersville, a clean, spruced-up, attractive "little circus" stopped along its road to what may eventually be oblivion. Looking totally unlike most carnivals and small-time circuses, the Beers-Barnes show had been stranded by an apparent mix-up in bookings. Local residents will remember 10 months ago when the King Bros. Circus trudged mechanically to the banks of State Mill and began what appeared to be a slow, fiftieth journey toward disintegration. The circus was penniless, split into a dozen pieces and paralyzed. A few days later it started off again with new signs of vigor—but stalled a week later in another small town. Yesterday the Beers-Barnes troupe proved that there was life under the old big top, yet. The company had nothing else much to do with its time—so last night the circus put on an impromptu, little-publicized performance for Tannersville residents. The show will be repeated tonight at Mountainhome, a spokesman said. The two-ring show last night was a "big success" local residents said. With about 10 people working—including Harold Barnes, tightrope walker and aerialist extraordinary as star of the show as well as co-owner—most of them doing double duty, the "circus" got off to a dipping start at 8:30. It was a half-hour late, but considering the circumstances, no one complained. Outside the tent—a remarkably good one, kept in a state of repair which belied the unit's present isolation—a "barker" hawked the amazing and startling revelation of a baby with four arms. One lady visitor said she passed that up, but several others availed themselves of the opportunity. The circus had animals. And they looked good, too, members of the crowd said. There was a camel, one of those mysterious creatures of the East who, strangely, was on view outside the tent, but never made his way inside the ring. There were two bull elephants whose massive frames seemed to startle a few of the smaller children but caused older ones to join in shrieks of delight. There was a group of beautiful horses, child-size ponies, trained dogs and some animals which one woman described as "cute little pigs—I think they were guinea pigs." They were also trained. Through it all it was the circus which emerged as the "hero." For all the times it had been written off by the guys with the smart money, the circus was still very much a powerful force in entertainment. Even if the old folks insisted on staying home to

Arthur Miller Found Guilty Of Contempt

WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Arthur Miller, playwright husband of actress Marilyn Monroe, was convicted today of contempt of Congress. U.S. Dist. Judge Charles McLaughlin announced the verdict in a 15-page written opinion. McLaughlin had presided without a jury at Miller's six-day trial, which ended a week ago yesterday. The indictment was based on Miller's refusal to tell the House Committee on Un-American Activities the names of Communist writers with whom he attended five of six meetings in New York in 1947. When he appeared before the committee last June, the 42-year-old playwright willingly answered all questions concerning himself. But he said his conscience would not permit him to use the names of others and bring trouble to them. Appearance Miller was not in court when Judge McLaughlin's decision was released to reporters and no time was fixed for his sentencing. In New York City, Miller said through a spokesman: "I can't comment at this time." The maximum punishment for contempt of Congress is one year in jail and a $1,000 fine. McLaughlin, rejecting one of the two unanswered questions cited in the indictment were pertinent to an inquiry being conducted by the committee. Chairman Walter (D-Pa) said the hearings during which Miller testified concerned fraudulent procurement and misuse of American passports. However commendable Miller's motive may have been in refusing to name others, McLaughlin said, that motive could not be taken into account. Miller remains free on bond.

Baghdad Pact Nations Plan For Military Organization

LONDON, May 31 (AP)—The five Baghdad Pact nations will consider plans for creating a military organization at a meeting in Karachi next week, it was disclosed today. Informed diplomats said on plan being considered would set up a military staff headquarters and make the 38-year-old Shah of Iran, Mohammed Reza Pahlavi, the supreme commander. The Ministerial Council of the alliance, meeting next Monday, also formally will invite the United States to join its Military Committee. The United States already has announced it would become a committee member, and is expected to have senior U.S. Army, Navy and Air Force officers present at the military committee meeting later in June. Purpose The basic purpose of giving the alliance some form of military organization arises from the desire to put teeth into it. Members of the pact are Iraq, Iran, Pakistan, Turkey and Britain. British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd is leaving tomorrow to attend the first meeting of the Ministerial Council to be held since the British-French invasion of Egypt last November. Field chief of the British Imperial Staff, also will attend.

Runaway Boy Receives Welcome

CHICAGO, May 31 (AP)—All was diplomacy today in the home of Italy's consul general as runaway Vittorio (Totò) Barattieri, 14, received a polite welcome home. Vittorio, outwardly, however, was unrepentant over his 44-day stay in New York. But, said his father, Count Ludovico Barattieri, "Totò is crestfallen over failing to solve the problem of supporting himself." The youth left home with about $120. He had $1.04 when he was stopped Wednesday in New York's garment district by FBI agents. Conference Barattieri, Italian consul general, held a news conference at which Chicago police officials, earlier criticized by the father as having bungled the search, were mollified, and Vittorio was given the floor. Barattieri, who provided champagne for all present, said that "the police did a fine job." First, the father gave an account of his son's adventures, stressing that the youth had left the family in a search of "self-confidence."

Toll May Rise As High As 500

ALGIERS, Algeria, May 31 (AP)—Barefooted Moslem women staggered out of the mountains today and told how vengeful nationalist rebels massacred virtually all of the men and older boys in their mud hut village 80 miles southeast of Algiers. French officials said the rebels killed 302 of their fellow Moslems in the worst incident of its kind in modern-day Algeria. Unofficial estimates in the French and Algerian press said the toll might reach 500. The French reported 35 others mutilated and slain in Moslem-against-Moslem violence in other areas of Algeria. News of the massacre stirred angry reaction in the French press and seemed certain to intensify French measures to subdue the nationalist revolt in Algeria, now 2½ years old. Forces French military forces, with apparent support of the horrified native population, launched a vast counteroperation by helicopter, plane and armored troops to hunt down the slayers. The motive behind the village massacre was not clear. The French said it might constitute another bloody chapter in the rivalry between two big Algerian nationalist groups — the Algerian Nationalist Movement (MNA) and the National Liberation Front (FLN). Some said the rebels struck as a warning to the Algerian population to have nothing to do with the French. Officers of a French garrison in the area said the slayers arrived recently in Algeria from Tunisia. Algerian nationalists in that neighboring country blamed the massacre on the French. French-Tunisian relations, already strained, worsened with word of a clash between French troops and members of the Tunisian National Guard. The clash occurred on Tunisian territory, where some French troops remain despite independence granted the former French possession. First reports said several were killed and wounded near Souk-el-Arba, site of a camp for Algerian refugees. The Tunisian secretary of state for information, Bechir Ben Yahmed, said later in Tunis that six Tunisian soldiers were killed and 18 other persons, including two Tunisian officials, were wounded.

Gasoline Tax To Drop One Penny Today

HARRISBURG, May 31 (AP)—Pennsylvania's six cent a gallon state tax on gasoline—among the highest in the nation—drops a penny at midnight. But whether motorists actually will pay a cent less for a gallon at the corner service station is uncertain. Under legislation initiated and passed by the Republican Legislature and signed by Gov. Leader, the sixth cent of tax, imposed in September, 1955, as an emergency measure, ends with the final day of the 1955-57 fiscal period. Lawmakers of both parties swiftly agreed on upping the tax to pay for damage in northeastern Pennsylvania caused by floods brought by Hurricane Diane. The tax wasn't due to expire until Sept. 13, but Republicans decided there was enough money in the Motor Vehicle Fund and passed legislation to end it at midnight today. Highway Program Gov. Leader sought to continue the tax at six cents to help with the expanding federal-aid highway program. The tax raised an estimated 27 million dollars a year. Although the state levy automatically drops the penny at midnight and motorists cannot be charged six cents state tax after that, there is nothing in the statute directing service stations to reduce their retail prices by one cent.

Grand Jury Indicts 25

HARRISBURG, May 31 (AP)—A Dauphin County grand jury today indicted 25 persons on charges stemming from a six-month investigation of the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission. The new list bringing to 46 the number of persons indicted in the probe—repeated conspiracy charges against former Commission Chairman Thomas J. Evans, Coaldale, and James F. Torrance, Export, suspended commissioner. The 20-member panel followed through almost completely on recommendations for prosecution made by an investigating grand jury last month. The charges included conspiracy, favoritism in insurance contracts, buying unnecessary supplies, bribery, perjury and free work performed by Turnpike workers on private property of commission members or highly placed employees.

COMRADES

Childhood is a brief span in the bridge of life. Yet it is during the early years that we lay the foundation for all that is to come.

Church School is over, and Eileen and Johnny linger on the church steps, talking about the lessons they've learned this morning. They both are excited because, under their teacher's guidance, the stories of the Bible are beginning to come alive for them.

We're not going to predict a "happy ever after" ending. We're not going to say that having met in Church School, Eileen and Johnny will go on seeing each other in church each week and that ultimately they'll grow up, fall in love, and get married. (Though, who knows? Maybe they will at that!)

But we are saying—and deeply believing—that through Church School these children and thousands upon thousands of other children are receiving religious education, an ever-expanding lesson in good fellowship, wisdom, kindness, and tolerance.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . .
ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible, daily.

Greater Expenditures Must Be Justified

It took a long time to get the taxpayers aroused about the lush growth of the federal budget and the heavy toll the federal tax collector takes from every family in the land.

But aroused they did get, and Congress has been hearing about it. The taxpayers are demanding budget cuts.

Some of this has rubbed off on the state budget, which has been under consideration in Harrisburg for the past several months. The next tax laws of recent years have made the average Pennsylvanian much more alert to the way his state officials handle the money entrusted to their care.

As far as the taxpayer is concerned, the problem is just the same in Harrisburg as it is in Washington. He wants no more new taxes—he has all he can handle right now. He wants, if and when possible, a tax reduction, and to that end he wants all the economies his representatives can find.

It was in response to these demands that the legislative majorities in Harrisburg charted out in Gov. George M. Leader's record-high budget proposals. Mr. Leader wanted $1,559,000,000 in general fund appropriations. Legislative leaders felt they had to cut almost 100 million dollars from these requests to avoid new state taxes.

Pressure groups marshalled by the administration are accusing the House Appropriations Committee of wrecking vital state welfare programs, of short-changing the ill and unfortunate, and of making reckless economies at the expense of helpless wards of the state.

Republican leaders in the Legislature maintain stoutly that all of the state's present services are being adequately financed. They say that funds available for the state mental hospitals and for mental defectives will be greater in the next two years than in the past two.

They have made criticisms of the way Secretary of Welfare Harry Shapiro proposed to spend welfare funds, which have not been answered by the welfare lobby, as the Pittsburgh Press observes.

Economy is as urgent in Harrisburg as it is in Washington for the money to support both governments comes out of the pockets of the same taxpayers. Those who want the state taxpayers to take on additional burden had better produce persuasive — and fair — arguments for spending more tax money.

Atomic Tests Continue Over Protest

Refusal of the United States to call off its Nevada atomic tests this week resulted in Japanese students storming the American Embassy in Tokyo. The hundred or more students were turned back by Japanese police, but they threatened to stage another demonstration later.

Anyone can appreciate the deep concern felt by the Japanese over the problem of radioactive fallout from the nuclear experiments conducted by the United States and the Soviet Union.

When Russia tests a nuclear device, our information is that it generally happens in the Siberian wastes where winds can easily carry some of the fission by-products over the vulnerable Japanese islands.

When we test atomic or hydrogen mechanisms in the Pacific, the tricky winds also can on occasion take radioactive substances westward toward Japan.

Our principal reason for refusing to halt the Nevada tests was the fact that the Soviet Union is not canceling its own experiments. So long as this is the case we dare not cease testing.

For in this complex field, constant experiment is vital to the maintenance of our nuclear lead over the Russians — a lead which most free men acknowledge is the chief deterrent to war.

Until the Kremlin comes up with a sincere and genuinely practical nuclear disarmament proposal which will safeguard all free men, there is hardly anything else we can tell the Japanese or anyone at all on this subject.

George Szaboisky Says...

Cohen's Brazen Admission Of Murders Hardly Qualifies Him For Television Award

Mike Wallace, on his television show, asked Mickey Cohen: "You've killed at least one man. How many more?" Mickey Cohen replied: "I've killed no one who didn't deserve killing. In all these cases, it was their life or mine."

Here is a man who, in a television interview, admits to murder. He is brazen about it. He is a tough guy, what is known among gangsters as a punk; that is, a minor tough guy.

Was the television show shut off as reprehensible? No! They could not do that because a show must go on its full time even if it fills your living room with poison. And this miserable exhibitionistic punk was permitted to continue to defend murder and to speak his line of talk.

This was after he had used the public airways to call one of America's best police officers, Police Chief William Parker of Los Angeles, "a thief," "a known alcoholic," "a sadistic degenerate."

This is not freedom of speech. It is not freedom of the air. It is filth. It is stultifying and whoever is responsible for it, should be exposed to the public view as one who regards a dollar as more valuable than the morals of the nation.

This Mickey Cohen, who tried to pose in New York as a votary of religion under the influence of Billy Graham, but who never hit the sawdust trail, admitted that he had done from $250,000 to $600,000 in daily bookmaking business.

On the matter of killings, he set himself up as judge and jury, as God who meted out sentences on Judgment Day. Where do these gangsters get the gall to talk the way they do? They get it from the people who look up to them as celebrities; they get it from the newspapers, radio and television who make minor heroes of these crooks.

The excuse that is often given for putting such garbage on the air is that Mike Wallace asks hard-hitting questions. It is no excuse at all. A creature such as Mickey Cohen has himself admitted he is should not be permitted into the company of gentlemen and decent women and it is to be assumed that such people view all these shows.

He says that he has killed. Surely, most of us would not want to invite Mickey Cohen to our homes to dinner and we should not be asked to permit his grotesque personality and his twisted sense of morals to come into our homes over television. He bears the mark of Cain.

These companies had better get on to themselves. In the fierce competition for high ratings (a palpable fraud but generally acknowledged device) and for more business, some of them are forgetting their responsibility to the public which can and will shut the television sets off as many people today shut off the singing advertisements which often are musically an insult to the listener and must disuade them from using the product they try to propagate.

I am willing to listen to dissonance for a few seconds if the program is worth while, but must I listen to Mickey Cohen, too? The public is going to ask that question more and more if television continues to put gangsters on programs.

One man told me he just walked into another room. Why not have a program called "How I Done It," giving every criminal a chance to teach our children how to get rich by pushing narcotics or how to become a big shot by promoting prostitution, or how to make a living being a torpedo which is a hopped-up dope who can be hired to kill for a few dollars?

Such a program would have the same justification as putting Mickey Cohen on television to say that he had killed no one who did not deserve killing. Can you imagine the implications of that sentence? Here is a guy who dares to say that despite our grand juries, despite our courts, despite our laws, he decides all on his own whom he is going to kill and why.

Mickey Cohen is reported to have admitted that he had been questioned 25 or 30 times concerning murders, but he has been acquitted in all of them. Maybe, after all, Cohen is not as bad as he makes out; maybe all this talk is only showing off.

The Once Over

We don't know how the case stands at this minute, but up to this writing a good many people have been worried by an other threat to world peace, this one involving Roberto Rossellini.

Rossellini, the famous movie director, and an Indian wife and a mother, Sonali Das Gupta. It may all be an advertisement for a coming movie or a collaborative movement by India and Italy for the complete restoration of Ingrid Bergman as an American box-office attraction. But if, as alleged in some dispatches, Roberto is wife-snatching in Asia, and a high Indian official has ordered him to get out of India or cease attentions to Sonali, U. N. can be in for another crisis.

One dispatch stated that the Indian Government has ordered him out "for abusing hospitality and trust," by breaking up an Indian home. It pictured Rossellini as defiant. In other stories Roberto has denied any Indian love interest and said he still adored Ingrid Bergman. ("You pays your money and you takes your favorite newspaper.")

But a world suffering jitters from plenty of disturbances is running a fever again. Love affairs can cause wars. And if a married man operating on a tourist's visa shows any signs of believing himself a sovereign state in the exercise of what he considers his rights, there can be serious trouble. India, we think, has problems enough without this one.

Nehru can hardly urge passive resistance to an Indian hubby who comes home and finds that the missus has gone off with a visiting celebrity, without even leaving a note "All is over. You will find cold sandwiches in ice-box. Put out the cat." The Indian premier has always stood for the settlement of issues through tolerance and the placid mind. But all violent reactions barred. But we doubt his ability to bring about a state of national tolerance where home-busting will be regarded as calling for nothing but patience and a belief that everything will come out okay if nobody gets angry.

It may be too much to expect any husband anywhere to vote an abstention to the motion — "Resolved: That my wife and the mother of my two kids having been appropriated by a third party, I poke him in the nose and get her back with reasonable cooperation from the government, world opinion and even the United Nations Security Council."

But, as we said before, the whole issue may be for the birds, the Italian movie industry and early summer reading.

MYSTERIOUS EAST

On Broadway

—by Walter Winchell

Savagery slithered out of the darkness of 18-year-old Ronald Marrone's mind and pretty 15-year-old Ruth Zellner was brutally murdered. Marrone followed a deadly pattern. The tragedy was preceded by the horror of 14-year-old Andrew Casey, who killed his mother and sister.

Several years ago Fred McManus (another "model" boy) liquidated 5 innocent people in cold blood. After he was nabbed, McManus severely reprimanded reporters for asking impolite queries and blamed his crimes on his mother "because she always treated me like a naughty boy."

The Jekyll-Hyde aspect among murderers is hardly novel! Wardens have frequently noted that killers are pushovers for sentimental ballads. Tears streamed down the cheeks of hardened Murder, Inc. gunmen when mothers visited them in jail.

The most crushing penalty in the Ronald Marrone case will be inflicted on his mother and father. Henceforth they are condemned to live with a nightmare and never know a moment of real peace.

Dead Appear, in addition to being a TV star and tycoon, is quite a diplomat. Look mag recently reported that a youngster burst into tears when she met Arnaz—because he didn't recognize her after appearing in her parlor every week. Arnaz, however, was equal to the occasion. "Honey," he soothed, "it's hard for me to see you—sitting out there in the dark."

Wall Street is crowded with explorers of the imponderables. The sharpies who are constantly on the prowl for a sure-thing in a game dominated by uncertainty. There is, however, a single certainty: The market goes down as well as up. And the smartest can be outfoxed... Once upon a time, a man invested his savings in a mining proposition and lost every cent. He was destined to become Wall Street's shrewdest financier: B. Baruch.

Incidentally, the 86-year-old Baruch once explained the secret of his longevity: "Life is worth living as long as there is a pretty woman to look at."

Roberto Rossellini, well-known as a director, is also a performer. He seems to be extremely deft at playing Romeo. How does he excite femme pitipats? What is the secret? Ingrid Bergman, an authority on the subject, once explained it: "I never thought 'I'm in love.' Nothing like that. I just felt as though I had known Roberto for years. He was easy to talk to and interesting to listen to. Most of all, he was alive, and he made me feel alive."

Ed Wynn has emerged from the shadows and life is full of brightness again. The 70-year-old star knows the melancholy aspects of being a has-been. He recently described it: "I was bewildered when no one came knocking on my door after all those active years. All of a sudden the big curtain came down." The curtain rose again, of course, when Wynn played a dramatic role in Teevee's "Requiem for a Heavyweight." It was a searing experience, however. After the first week's rehearsals, almost everybody pleaded with Wynn to quit.

His son, the writers, the director—all begged him to leave the show rather than face public humiliation. Nobody seemed to have faith in Ed Wynn—except Ed Wynn.

Robert S. Allen Reports

Vigorous Dissent Filed Against Natural Gas Bill

Washington, May 31: It's one uproar after another on the long-embattled natural gas bill.

Latest explosion is over the Budget Bureau's piling on a vigorous dissenting opinion against the legislation by Federal Power Commissioner R. William R. Connelley.

The Connecticut Eisenhower-Democrat, who was appointed by the President in 1953, splits squarely with a majority report favoring the measure, signed by Commissioners Jerome Kuykendall, chairman, Frederick Stueck, and Seaborn Digby. Commissioner Arthur Kline has taken no stand as yet.

Both Senate and House opponents of the gas bill have been tipped off about Connelley's blast and are threatening to investigate its "suppression" by the Budget Bureau. Two reasons are behind this backstage furor:

The Budget Bureau sent the FPC majority report favoring the measure to the House Interstate Commerce Committee, where it is now pending. But Connelley's counter-declaration is still being held by the bureau.

A private poll of the House Committee indicates the bill's backers will have the votes to report it out in June. On the basis of this nose count, they now have a two-vote majority in the committee.

The measure's leaders plan to bring it to a vote in the full House in July—provided they can pass it there. Otherwise they will let the legislation go over until next year.

Current prospects in the House are still conjectural. The outcome there may largely depend on what happens to the bill in the Interstate Commerce Committee.

What he says—Actually, Commissioner Connelley's dissenting opinion is no secret to foes of the gas measure.

The Budget Bureau may be withholding it, but they have a copy of it.

According to their information, Connelley was away on official business when the majority's favorable report was sent to the Budget Bureau by Chairman Kuykendall. Otherwise the dissent would have been submitted at the same time. When Connelley returned to Washington, he promptly dispatched his statement to the bureau.

Foes of the bill charge that's the last seen of it.

They claim the Budget Bureau forwarded the approving majority report, but not Connelley's sharp challenge. Committee members propose to question Budget Director Percival Brundage on how and why that happened.

Meanwhile, they are making the most of Connelley's arguments against the legislation. He attacks it on two main grounds:

It would bar the Power Commission from "considering costs or from using public utility rate base cost-of-service concept or formula in determining a fair market price" for natural gas. Vagueness of key provisions, such as "reasonable market value," "commodity value." Connelley contends these ambiguities would lead to "protracted administrative and judicial proceedings."

Highlights of his unpublished dissent are as follows:

"The danger in recommending the elimination of the requirement that the commission consider certain factors in making rates lies in the possibility that the legislation will prohibit their consideration. It is the prohibition of consideration with which I disagree."

"Moreover, the prohibition in the bill against the commission instituting an investigation on its own motion eliminates any possibility of correcting an error should judgment of the Commission prove erroneous... Also the commission has difficulty enough in fixing just and reasonable rates under conditions existing at the time of a hearing, without being required to forecast economic conditions into an unknown future period."

"Since it can be statistically demonstrated that on the basis of current annual sales by pipelines of six billion M.C.F., an increase of one cent in all purchases of natural gas amounts to $60,000,000 annually. It is evident that no increase, however small it may seem at the well-head, should be permitted without careful evaluation of all factors involved."

Note — Prior to coming to Washington, Connelley was a member of the Connecticut Utility Commission.

Sparks—John "Sandy" O'Brien, Chicago Teamster vice president, has potent backing for Dave Beck's top place. Supporting O'Brien is John English, veteran Teamsters secretary-treasurer, who played a leading role in Beck's expose and forthcoming "retirement." In addition to being vice president, O'Brien also heads Chicago Local 710 with more than 13,000 dues-paying members. His salary is $36,000; of which $30,000 comes from the Local and $6,000 as International vice president... Senator Jack Kennedy (D., Mass.) bluntly told a group of New England businessmen that he doesn't believe the national debt will ever be paid off. Said Kennedy, "Our main objective should be to keep the debt under the present $275 billion ceiling." He also predicted Congress will increase personal tax exemptions from $600 to $700 next year.

Retirement Project A Dream Come True

By Anne Heywood

It seems to me that we build a gulf between the physical and the spiritual, where none really exists. We think that if an activity is virtuous, it's bound to be a bore; and if it's fun, it must be somehow bad for us.

Wrong Thinking

The same thing goes with work. If it's fun, there's no money in it; and if it's lucrative, it must be nerve-racking. Yet most of the people I know who make the most money, are the ones who really love their work. And vice versa.

That's why I get annoyed when, in talking about retirement plans, people put all the emphasis on "creative self-expression."

I'm in favor of creative self-expression as much as the next one, but what's wrong with a little added income? Moreover, if the activity is really full of creative self-expression, it will pay real money every time.

For example, a couple I know illustrate this point perfectly.

They always wanted to have a toy shop, because they love children and they love toys. They had saved a little money every year. When their own children were grown, the wife went back to work and saved her salary. The husband had one of those glorified clerical jobs, with good security but a lot of boredom.

Waring Show Slated For Television

By Jim Riley

Those folks who filled the East Stroudsburg State Teachers College Auditorium to capacity for both of the

Fred Waring shows Wednesday night will undoubtedly be happy to know that Fred and his Pennsylvanians are set for six weeks of Summer television.

Although no official announcement has been made to date, Murray Luth, Fred's New York business manager, told me Wednesday night that everything is set and that the Pennsylvanians will sub for the Gary Moore Show.

The Waring TV program, a half hour in length, will run five days a week for six weeks and it will originate right at Shawnee-on-Delaware. The Pocono Mountains will form the background for the entire series of shows.

The first show is scheduled for Monday, July 22, at 10 a.m. on Channel Two.

Speaking of shows brings to mind the fact that Wednesday's double YMCA benefit program came about through the generosity of the Waring organization.

Fred had set up his current tour with the provision that Wednesday, May 29, would be an open date. But, when he heard that the Monroe County YMCA was holding a drive for funds at this time he offered the services of his unit. The deal, which enabled the YMCA to benefit to a greater financial degree than usually is the case for such contracts, was completed in a conference between Luth and Jake Cohen, a member of the YMCA board.

During a brief post-show conversation with this reporter, Fred let it be known that he was extremely happy that the shows went over so big with the "home town" folks. Fred wanted everyone to enjoy Wednesday's performances, probably as much as any he has ever presented.

The entire troupe, both old and new, were well accepted by the large crowds.

Fred Luth, Waring's orchestral director, informed this reporter that both Joe Marine and "Uncle Lumphy," both former outstanding stars with the Pennsylvanians, are doing alright for themselves in their new ventures.

Joe is married and now living in Las Vegas, where he is singing in area clubs.

Stroudsburg, East Stroudsburg To Hold Baccalaureates

Both Services To Be Held Tomorrow

BACCALAUREATE services will be held for both Stroudsburg and East Stroudsburg high schools tomorrow night.

Stroudsburg High School will hold its annual service at 7:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

Invocation will be given by Rev. F. H. Blatt, Rev. P. N. Wohlson, D. D., will give the responsive reading. The lesson will be delivered by Rev. John A. Bollier, Rev. Charles A. Park will deliver the sermon. The benediction will be given by Rev. Roger C. Stimson.

The high school band ensemble will play the processional and recessional. The girls chorus will sing two selections: "Ave Maria" by Franz Schubert with Stacey Ace as soprano soloist and "List, the Cherub Host" by Gaul with Beryl Godshall, alto soloist.

Baccalaureate service for graduating East Stroudsburg High School seniors will be held at 8 p.m.

The program will be conducted in the J. M. Hill (Junior High) School auditorium.

Invocation for the service will be given by Rev. John A. Esselt, the "call to worship" by Rev. B. H. Hostetter; evening prayer by Rev. Frank W. Wingerter; Scripture lessons by Capt. Charles Baker and Rev. Norman R. Savage; the sermon by Rev. Harold C. Eaton and the benediction by Rev. William F. Wunder.

Both the high school chorus and the band will take part in the program. The chorus will be heard in two hymns, "Joyful, Joyful, We Adore Thee" and "Onward, Christian Soldiers."

The band will play Edward Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance" as the processional and Giuseppe Verdi's "Triumphal March" from the opera "Aida" as the recessional.

Motorist Injured At Bartonsville

BARTONSVILLE — A Scranton man suffered chest injuries in an accident here at 12:05 a.m. today.

Anthony Eugene Sileo, 25, of 113 Filmore Ave., Scranton, rammed into a truck at the intersection of Routes 12 and 611, State Police revealed.

Confused
The police reported that Sileo stated that he became confused when he saw the lights of a parked tractor trailer truck and thought the road turned in that direction. He turned right and crashed into the truck. The truck was parked at the intersection, waiting for traffic to clear.

Sileo was admitted for observation at the Monroe County General Hospital. He suffered chest injuries when thrown against the steering wheel of his car.

The car suffered heavy damage. The truck was only slightly damaged. Troopers Edward Benesky and Donald Henzey investigated the accident.

Gallery Art Club Opens Second Year With Show Of 31 Paintings By Local Artists

By Leonard Randolph
GALLERY ART CLUB opened its second year last night with a sprightly show of 31 paintings by local artists.

If this was a battleground for the "modern artists" — whoever they are — I'm afraid a 10-year-old boy showed them how with a fine, witty crayon line drawing. This was Don Mazer's concise composition of "Maak's" in conversation. It was one of the most stimulating things in the show.

But the controversy that bubbles constantly between fanatics of both extremes in painting (the "modern" and the "classical") certainly could not be settled by the current show. It's about evenly-split between the two styles and I think there are notable examples of each.

Before we go any farther I'll tell you that I recommend the show heartily both because it is representative of work being done by advocates of both creative trends and because it has a variety of subject matter and interpretive skill which I think you'll find pleasing.

Taking the particularly-noted paintings in the order in which they appear on the Gallery program, these were my impressions:

Nancy Hebard's "Dance of the Chairs" has a balanced coloration and sophistication which gives humor to the painting. Violet Price's conservative "Winter Scene" is a fine painting in the older style and it has the distinctive value of a good interpretation of a shaded creek.

Again in the "modern" vein, Henry Evans' explosive floral piece is one of the highlights of the show; a well-constructed, delicate arrangement of Spring flowers. One of Sterling Strauss' early paintings — and one which represents another stage in this area's most adventurous artist's creative life — has a brooding, brown-study mood which makes it into an excellent interpretation of a child's music lesson within the family.

One of the most evocative paintings in the show is a "Landscape Immediately After Winter" by Angelo Vianello, who succeeds in establishing a mood of charming beauty and simplicity and suggested colors. There are fine "Still Lifes" by Elnora Hauser and by Adele Katz. In "Impression of Spring," it seems to me, Harry Pifer demonstrates precisely what most people criticize heavily in "modern" art. Pifer uses a palette knife-technique which gives his semi-abstract appearance of a back liberally thatched with wells from a cat of nine tails. This, I'd say, represents an extreme in technique which totally destroys the meaning of the painting.

Francis Meredith's "Tree by the River" is pastoral and technically good. In her charcoal sketch of a seated figure Bernice B. Levin destroys the otherwise simply-defined grace of her work with a curiously out-of-context red collar. There is a still life by Carla Holmgren which, I thought, was the most successful painting she has shown recently and J. Havard Macpherson has

Logan Traces Origin Of Expression

MODERN ARTISTS may have an "artistic complex" a main speaker and several discussants from the floor said last night as the Gallery Art Club opened its 1957 season.

Principal speaker was artist Robert Logan who praised Mr. and Mrs. Morgan Hebard, prime movers in the Gallery's successful career last year. Logan traced the origins of art as a means of expression to the "gimmicked up and streamlined" modern age which has caused some artists with names (such as Picasso, Matisse, Modigliani) to "capitalize on commercial value."

He urged his audience to "spend your time and emotional reactions liking things — don't waste your time picking out the defects in a painting." The value of an artist's work lies in "his ability to interpret and having the guts to follow through," Logan said.

Logan criticized the tendency among art enthusiasts toward "liking a man's work just because he has a name." He again pointed out that "the answer to a picture's value has to come from within your self — how are we to know if a picture has merit other than by our own emotions and reactions to the picture?" he asked.

The speaker's criticism of "modern artists" was endorsed vehemently by Angelo Vianello, one of the artists whose work was on display in the opening show. Vianello said: "If I send you a letter and it is filled with beautiful thoughts but it is written in scribbles which you cannot read, do you understand the beauty of what I am saying? It's the same with modern art."

Gallery Art Club president Jesse Weiss opened the program by outlining the schedule for the Summer. Weiss then introduced East Stroudsburg Burgess Jesse R. S. Flory who welcomed the capacity audience and expressed a hope that the center would serve as a strong force for cultural education in the community.

The Club's studio is located over Famous Department Store on Crystal St. in East Stroudsburg. It is open to the public afternoons.

'Posture' Chief Topic Of Bangor Talk

BANGOR — "The Posture of a Free Man" formed the basis for the Memorial Day address delivered by the Rev. Stewart Bortner, pastor of Christ Evangelical and Reformed Church, Stone Church, at morning rites on the mall of the mausoleum at St. John's Cemetery.

With all the pomp and circumstance accompanying this observance, he noted that people more or less assumed the posture of a soldier, but he cautioned that one's posture as a citizen after the day had passed was far more important.

He traced history back to the Pilgrim Fathers and other early religious settlers, saying that they prayed as well as ploughed and, in freedom of prayer, assumed the posture of prayer.

Self Sacrifice
He also touched on the posture of self sacrifice, made by those of their country, and of the posture of the laborer, with the necessity to toil to keep this nation great. The posture of a free man, he concluded, must include patriotism of peace, not only in war-time or on holidays of emotionalism, but continuously through a quality within us.

Philip S. Ruggiero, Bangor attorney, acted as the master of ceremonies. The Rev. Roland Catterall, pastor of the local Presbyterian Church, offered the invocation. Musical selections were rendered by the Washington Township School band and the drum and bugle corps of Emlen H. Evans Post 378, American Legion.

Alan McFall gave Lincoln's "Gettysburg Address." Patricia Hoenshelt recited "Flanders Field."

Mrs. Meyers, Stroudsburg, Succumbs

MRS. EDITH Rosanne Meyers, 75, of 909 Fairview Ave., Stroudsburg, died in General Hospital last night after a long illness.

Born in Canada, Mrs. Meyers had resided in Bridgeport, Conn., and Philadelphia before moving to Stroudsburg two years ago. She was a member of the Upworth Methodist Church of Philadelphia.

Family
The daughter of the late John and Lena Bush Harrison, Mrs. Meyers is survived by two sons, Archibald and Franklin Diener, both of Bridgeport; two daughters, Miss Martha Diener of Bridgeport and Mrs. Foster Wilson, Stroudsburg; a sister, Mrs. Clara Avery, New York City; and several grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Tuesday at 2 p.m. from the Warner Funeral Home, and interment will be in Laurelwood Cemetery. Viewing will be held Monday evening at the Funeral Home.

Greentown Resident Succumbs

MARY A. FRISBIE, 50, of Greentown, died at home yesterday morning after a short illness.

Born and residing in Greentown all of her life, Mrs. Frisbie, the daughter of the late Floyd and Addie Bortree Frisbie, is survived by a son, Douglas, who also lives in Greentown, and two brothers, Wilmer, of Stroudsburg, and Charles, of Rahns.

Services
Funeral services will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. from the Frey Funeral Home, the Rev. Dr. Frederick D. Fulmer, Moravian Church of Newfoundland, presiding. Interment is in the Old Greenwood Cemetery.

Friends may pay respects to-night at the funeral home.

Writers Guests At Banquet

THE ANNUAL banquet of the Pocono Mountains Writers Workshop was held last night at Charlton's Lodge, East Stroudsburg RD 2, where 12 of the writers enjoyed a roast beef dinner.

President John M. Price was the toastmaster.

No formalities had been planned to follow the meal but announcement was made of what the writers considered good news relative to Price's autobiography telling of his life in paraplegia.

Inquiry has been made from New York City, which seemed definitely to indicate that his most unusual experiences are regarded as good book copy.

Farmers May Make Application

FARMERS on land on which no wheat was seeded for grain for any of the years 1955, 1956 and 1957, may apply for a 1958 wheat acreage allotment, according to David H. Griffith, chairman of the Monroe County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. To be considered for an allotment on a farm which had no wheat seeded for grain for any of those years, the farmer must apply in writing to his county ASC Committee, Court House, Stroudsburg, by July 1st.

MORA Club Views Film

A FILM defending "The Freedom of the Press" was shown at the MORA Club at its weekly Wednesday meeting. The showing was held at the YMCA.

The picture, which showed the necessity for the abandonment of the old guard in favor of fresh young liberals was the highlight of the meeting. "The government must never take over our thinking," the film concluded.

Speaker
Judge F. W. Davis will be the next featured speaker, discussing next week the "Atomic Explosions," Borough Manager E. Harbold will expound on city government on June 19th.

The membership discussed the feasibility of visiting the local fossil deposits, but no definite conclusion was arrived at.

Dance At YMCA

AN EXTRA treat has been planned for the boys and girls who attend the YMCA dances each Saturday night. The Melody Boys Band will be on hand tonight to provide the teen-agers special entertainment. Boys and girls are to dress casually, but no dungarees will be allowed in the dance.

Mrs. Paul Neipert, Tobyhanna; Mrs. Claude Quick, Tobyhanna; Mrs. Roy Isley, Clifton, N.J.; three sons, Harry, Chenango Forks, N.Y.; George, Johnson, City, N.Y.; and James Jr., Moscow.

Funeral services will be held at a funeral home in Moscow at 2 p.m. Monday, with Rev. R. J. Lukens officiating. Burial will be in the Moscow Cemetery.

Firemen To Pay Respects

CHIEF MILLARD Marsh announced last night that all Stroudsburg firemen are to report in uniform at 7 tonight at the borough firehouse for the viewing of Russell Sage Walton, 64, 27 N. Fourth St., who died in General Hospital Thursday.

The viewing will be held at the William H. Clark Funeral Home.

Portland

MRS. WILLIAM Lane and sons, David and Billy, of Darby, Pa., are spending the week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Be-secker and aunt, Mrs. Emma Ross.

Edgar Dalberg has been admitted to the Monroe County General Hospital, East Stroudsburg.

The Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Portland Methodist Church will meet on Tuesday night in the social rooms of the church. Mrs. Fred Farleigh and Miss Shirley Gilbert will be the hostesses.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard West and Mrs. West's mother, Mrs. Laura Woolever of Trenton, N. J., were guests over the weekend of Mrs. Woolever's niece and nephew, Miss Ruth Randolph and Lester Randolph.

Does your home help make your neighborhood a better place to live?

Check what you can do to improve both your home and your neighborhood

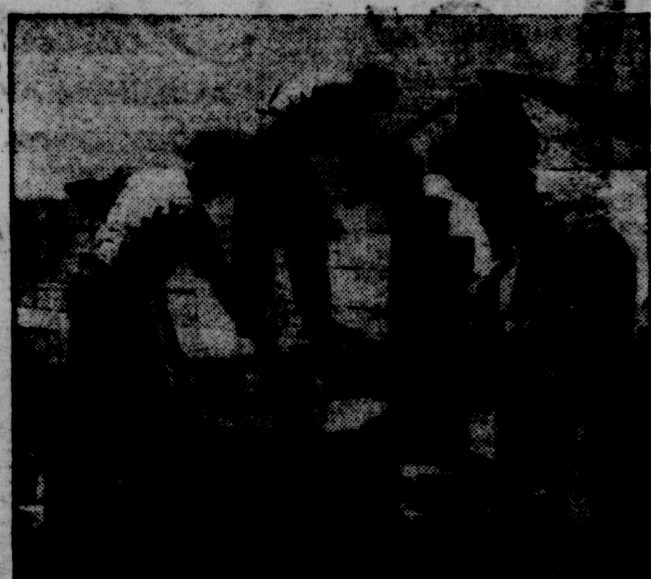

Neighborhoods change with the times. Your community, like thousands of others, is directly affected by our present expanding economy. As America continues her dynamic growth, you must be prepared for even greater changes to come. You should fully understand the neighborhood consequences of national growth... and be fully prepared to meet the challenges it poses to you personally.

You and your neighborhood must plan for the future

All over America, neighborhoods and individuals in communities like yours are planning for tomorrow. They are protecting their own personal and community security by growing with the times... by working at home and in groups to solve problems like these:

1. In the next ten years, we must house about 25 million more people.
2. Simultaneously, we must find space for almost 25 million more automobiles.
3. America is already handicapped by 5 million dwellings that are beyond repair, and another 20 million in urgent need of repair.
4. Each year, for approximately $10 billion spent in new housing, blight wipes out almost $5 billion worth of housing... we gain only 50¢ for every dollar we spend annually in new construction.

It's important for you and your neighborhood to act now

Here's how ACTION and many local groups can assist you

These immense national pressures affect your neighborhood. Too often a community or its individual citizens fail to act in time. Instead of changing constructively, of growing with the times, the area is forced to grow haphazardly—in a makeshift, dangerously ill-planned fashion.

Act now to strengthen and safeguard your home and neighborhood. Stay alert for signs of creeping blight. Support the local groups that fight substandard housing, that seek better living conditions for all. Most important, help protect and improve your neighborhood by protecting and improving your own property.

Start right here. The first check-list at right pinpoints common danger spots from which blight breeds and spreads. The second check-list offers you valuable hints on home improvement. Use both to measure the worth of your home to your neighborhood and nation. By taking pride in your own property, by working with your neighbors for the community good, you better everybody's way of life.

ACTION—the American Council To Improve Our Neighborhoods—is a national citizen organization dedicated to home and neighborhood improvement. It has already aided many individuals and groups. It can help you.

Try to get the local facts first. Some of your most valuable local sources for aid and information are listed below.

For local information on your community's improvement program, contact your:

1. Planning Director, Elected Officials, Housing, Redevelopment and Renewal Officials.
2. Business Groups, Realtors, Builders and Building Materials Suppliers.
3. Service Clubs and Civic Affairs Groups.
4. Special Advisory Commissions and Councils.
5. Health and Welfare Agencies.

If you need more advice on a specific home-improvement or group project, write a letter explaining the exact information you need to ACTION. Help is always at hand. Play your part by improving your own home, then interest your neighbors in necessary neighborhood-improvement projects. You can encourage many others by your example.

Lorna Singer — Miss Pennsylvania

Pocono Mountains To Be Represented In State Pageant

"Miss Pennsylvania, 1957," will be chosen on June 29th at Longwood Gardens.

On this date, Lorna Singer, 19, will relinquish her present title to the new queen and attend art school on the basis of the $2,000 scholarship she captured as "Miss Pennsylvania" coupled with an extra $1,000 won in the Miss America pageant.

This latter award was for being the best amateur singer among the non-finalists.

The State title will involve 22 girls, one of whom will represent the Pocono area as "Miss Pocono Mountains, 1957." This elimination will be staged at the State Teachers College auditorium on June 18th.

All applications, accompanied by two glossy photographs, must be filed by June 8th, a week from today.

All expenses for Miss Pocono when she journeys to Longwood Gardens will be borne by the West Chester Exchange Club, the sponsors of the "Miss Pennsylvania" contest. They will also subsidize the chaperone.

Applications may be obtained from Mrs. Holt Wyckoff or Mrs. Jack Shinn as well as from the YMCA Auxiliary.

Barrett YMCA Names Slate Of Officers

MOUNTAINHOME—Barrett branch YMCA held its annual meeting this week. The following directors were elected to the board to serve for the next three years: Frank Thomas, Rev. Edgar Moore, E. K. Crothers, George Webb, Mrs. Milton Carlton, Victor Shankweiler, Bernice Shepard and Robert Ziegler.

Election of officers for the next year will be held at the June meeting. President Crothers appointed Rapha Sieg, Jacob Conley, Rev. Harold MacMurray and Mrs. Lena Swain to act as a nominating committee.

Elections
Branch Executive William McDonnell reported the Jr. Hi-Y Club had held elections with the following results: Donald Shepard, president; Pat Mullens, vice president; Fred Albert, secretary-treasurer.

Donald Shepard was elected as medicine man and Leo Smith as wumpum bearer for the Kohono Indian Lore Club.

McDonnell also reported that Shepard and Tom Bridge will act as counselors for the Monroe County YMCA day camp.

Mrs. Lean Swain was appointed chairman of a committee to arrange for a card party to be held some time this summer.

Party For Graduates

A PARTY FOR the graduating class of East Stroudsburg Area Joint High School will be held next Thursday night at Willow Dell. It will be sponsored by the parents of class members.

Mrs. Theodore Viechnicki, chairman, reminded all parents to turn their reservations over to the committee member who contacted them at the earliest possible date.

The party will begin about 10 p. m. immediately after the commencement exercises. Six couples, all parents of the graduates, will chaperone the affair.

Two Couples Seek Licenses

TWO COUPLES have applied for marriage licenses at the office of Prothonotary N. Henry Fenner. They are Albert Leon Schoonover, Bushkill, and Kathryn Beatrice Beam, Mount Bethel; and Edgar Nathan Panna and Hilda May Williams, both of East Stroudsburg.

The DAILY RECORD Display Advertising DEADLINES

Advertising copy deadlines, just as news copy deadlines are necessary . . . in fact, are imperative to the publication of a newspaper.

Enforcement of deadlines makes it possible to give readers a better newspaper, delivered on schedule. A better newspaper, promptly delivered to all sections of the trading area, means a better advertising medium.

It follows that adequate time for the proper handling of advertising copy, without interference with the mechanics of news production . . . and, without jeopardizing the "on time" delivery of the newspaper . . . permits the better handling of advertising copy to work to the advantage of the advertiser in a better advertising medium.

In the interest of better serving ALL advertisers, all copy for display advertising, including CLASSIFIED DISPLAY, must meet the following deadlines:

Monday Copy - - - - - 5:00 P. M. Friday
Tuesday Copy - - - - - 12 Noon Saturday
Wednesday Copy - - - - - 5:00 P. M. Monday
Thursday Copy - - - - - 5:00 P. M. Tuesday

Francis E. Walter

Walter To Be Honored In Baltimore

BALTIMORE — Congressman Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.) chairman, House Un-American Activities Committee, will be publicly honored at the Catholic War Veterans Department of Maryland's annual banquet, tonight at the Emerson Hotel, where he will be the principal speaker and the recipient of Christopher Post's of the Catholic War Veterans 1957 Americanism Award.

Walter is being cited for his "forceful, persistent, and courageous fight in alerting the American public to the existing dangers of the Communist conspiracy."

Speaker Congressman Walter will speak on the continuing menace of Communism and will review the recent hearings on the Communist activities in Maryland. Three of the "cooperative" witnesses during those hearings, who have already been commended for their courage and patriotism, will be guests of the Christopher Post. Thaddeus S. Bruchalski, post commander and the Department of Maryland CWV anti-subversion chairman will present the award. The banquet is open to the public.

School Children Join With Adults In Making Dingmans Memorial Day Parade Successful

DINGMANS FERRY — School children, mothers, Cub Scouts and members of the Keystone Junior Riding Club joined with the American Legion and their Ladies Auxiliary to make this year's Memorial Day parade one of the finest in recent years.

The annual event, sponsored by Tighman-Angle-Smith Post 351 of Dingmans Ferry was witnessed by a large crowd along the line of march. The paraders gathered at the Delaware Township Consolidated School, proceeded to Route 209 and marched along this main highway to the Dingmans Ferry Cemetery where services were held around the grave of World War I veteran, Walter Luxford.

The ceremony was held on a sunny slope of this 90-year-old cemetery. The brilliant flag, the Legionnaires, flanked by the uniformed Cub Scouts and school children, each carrying an American flag, made an impressive picture against the darkly-green wooded hillside.

An invocation by Rev. Karl E. McClure, pastor of the Dingmans Ferry Methodist Church was followed by a memorial reading by the post chaplain, William Meyers. After a moment of silent prayer, a three-gun salute was fired by Post Commander James Albright, Adjutant Carl Bensley and Edward Shepherd. Taps were played by Holman F. James. The color guard consisted of William Hoffman and Charles Doty, and members of the Legion. Al Matthey, Robert Goodman, George Handelson, Thomas Hotalen and W. R. Rorer also marched.

After the march, all children who participated were treated to ice cream cones or soda.

Opposite Sides Air Views

NEW ORLEANS, May 31 (U-P) — Two federal judges today defended the practice of barring photographers from Federal Court proceedings, while a press representative took the side of the cameramen.

The discussions came at the opening session of the two-day judicial conference of the Fifth Circuit which has attracted jurists from the U. S. Supreme Court level to district judges.

Ready for the Summer shopping stampede?

June, July and August are busting out all over—in sales. Last year summer retail sales were $1,400,000,000 more than spring sales. Summer sales gains in 1956 over 1955 were 32% greater than gains for the average quarter for the rest of the year.*

Summertime is shopping time because shopping's easier. Days are longer and the weather is better. Our booming economy has given more people more money to spend. Last year civilian employment averaged an unprecedented 65 million and went as high as 66:8 million at the seasonal peak in the summer!*

Daily newspaper circulation is highest ever, too—now up over 57,000,000. And, important for advertisers—it remains practically constant throughout the year. There is no summer replacement for the newspaper!

Each summer more and more advertisers—national, regional and local—are rushing their ads into newspapers to take advantage of the surge in summer buying. Make sure you get your share of summer sales. Use the daily newspaper this summer—all summer.

All business is local...and so are all newspapers.

1957 Big Year For Disabled Working Man

THE YEAR 1957 is an important one for those Stroudsburg area workers who are disabled or those who might become disabled, according to the local social security office. If you are so severely disabled that you are unable to work, you or your family may have rights under one or more of these three parts of the social security law:

(1) If you are disabled and are 50 years of age and older, you may be eligible for cash disability insurance payments beginning with a payment for the month of July 1957.

(2) If you are disabled and your disability began while you were under 18 years of age, you may be eligible as of January 1957 to receive child's insurance benefits even after reaching age of 18 if either your father or your mother is receiving old-age insurance payments or if you have lost the support through death of a parent who was insured for benefits.

(3) If you are disabled and have not yet reached 50 years of age, you may be eligible to have your social security earnings record "frozen" to protect your own or your family's rights to future benefit payments because of old-age disability or death. If you, or someone in your family believe you may qualify under one of these provisions, see your social security office for further information about these new disability provisions of the social security law. A disabled person who has not worked after September 1954 will not be able to meet the work requirements if he delays filing a claim until after June 29 of this year. As a result, he would not be eligible to have his social security record frozen, nor to receive disability insurance benefits at age 50. He would have to wait until regular retirement age to receive any benefits, and those benefits would be reduced because of the time when he was unable to work and keep up his social security record. For a younger disabled worker, it may also mean the complete loss of all benefit rights. The social security office is at 204 Northampton St., Easton.

40 Refugees Deported

RICHMOND, Va., May 30 (AP)—An immigration service official said today approximately 40 Hungarian refugees have been returned to Austria because they concealed their attachment to Communist organizations.

P. A. Esperdy, acting regional immigration commissioner, said the refugees returned were found to have "lied under oath" when questioned about Communist affiliations.

He said subsequent investigations showed they concealed their attachments. He said among those returned may have been sincere defectors but they still hid their Communist links when questioned.

WHERE TO GO

Entertainment Aplenty

There's always plenty to do at the V.F.W. in Stroudsburg. Members and guests will be able to enjoy a full weekend of entertainment at this popular spot.

Tonight at "The Vets" you can dance from 10 to 2 to the music of the "Starlight Serenaders." This new group will be at the V.F.W. for the next few weeks. Sunday you'll find the V.F.W. a good spot to send a relaxing afternoon. Bill Mauger will be entertaining at the piano-organ from 3 to 9 p.m. Then Sunday night—from 9 to 12—you can dance again with the "Guys and Dolls."

The New Look

Pocono Drive-In Theater will show Hollywood's "new look in musicals," starting tomorrow night. "Funny Face" is a recent release and stars that old master of the tap shoes, Fred Astaire. Co-starring with him is Audrey Hepburn.

This is a different type of roll for Miss Hepburn, who also starred in the "War and Peace" classic. As the publicity boys at Paramount Pictures say: "When Audrey rocks . . . everybody rolls." The picture is in Technicolor and VistaVision. It has received many good reviews . . . so why not "see the stars under the stars" at Pocono Drive-In!

Two Couples To Renew Vows Of Wedding 50 Years Ago

Roseto—A golden wedding is itself rare enough, but a double golden wedding celebration is a real event. It will be observed in real fashion on Sunday, June 2, when Mr. and Mrs. Luigi Caporaso of Pen Argyl and Mr. and Mrs. Domenic Tanzella will renew their wedding vows in Our Lady of Mount Carmel Catholic Church, Roseto, at the 11 a. m. mass.

This is the same church in which the two couples were married in a double ceremony 50 years ago. Mr. Caporaso and Mrs. Tanzella are brother and sister. Their children and grandchildren will be present for the ceremony and the dinner to follow at the Hotel Easton.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

You are, generally, favorites of mine, but never more so than when I'm going to leave you for a week's vacation. The news always seems so cozy, the newsmakers so enterprising, and the whole community such a pleasant place.

Where else would you have Girl Scouts visiting the Zoo, Cubs at the Fish Hatchery and planning on Valley Forge, and PTA's taking the school children to the Wild Animal Farm?

Where else would you find your teen-agers enthusiastically getting ready for summer jobs in hotels, stores, the parks, pools and telephone office? And speaking of getting ready for jobs, Nancy May has an exciting one in store — she's going to her first teaching job — in Hawaii. If you please, I can just see the Hawaiian Club members turning green with envy.

Where else would you have such pleasant reports from colleges on how well our students are doing? Or people having double golden weddings? Where else are the streets so populated with honey-mooning couples wearing "Pocono Mountains" emblazoned across their matching jerseys?

Where else would it take me half an hour to go two blocks on account of meeting so many people I wanted to talk to? I'm afraid it's not "where else" but who else would stop right in the middle of a day already running short of hours to play nine holes of golf??

Feeling that way about it, I don't know why I leave, do you? Except I wouldn't be feeling that fond if I weren't.

A LOVELIER YOU

By Mary Sue Miller

THE BRIDE HAS A SECRET. Bride-to-be, the secret of a memorable wedding is not splendour, but your own personal charm. By your charm, you imbue those near you with a glow that outshines ceremonial satin and candles.

Vital to the achievement is your consideration. Give it generously during pre-wedding planning and festivities. Give it alike to family, friends and those who serve you. When minor slips occur—and they will—let your sense of humor come to the rescue.

Remember that weddings are family affairs. Loving attention, now, to your own and your bridegroom's family contributes much to happy relationships in the future. A smile, now, will smile back at you from other lips for years to come.

YOUR GROOMING—A TO Z
Put aside your grooming doubts and worries! Send today for YOUR GROOMING—A TO Z, a booklet that covers every step in achieving smooth looks. It tells how to manicure and pedicure, use deodorants and depilatories, bathe for beauty, tend feet, hands, teeth and eyes, polish skin and hair, care for clothes, apply perfume, overcome personal posers. To obtain your copy, write me in care of "A Lovelier You", Box 158, Dundee, Ill., enclosing a large, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 20c in coin.

Court Of Awards For Girl Scouts Of Troop 9

Troop No. 9 which meets at E. S. Methodist Church celebrated their troop birthday Monday. They also held their Court of Awards.

Marie Elnoff received her first class badge, adventure, Campcraft and outdoor safety. Second class and adventure badges were awarded to Dorothy Hastings, Diane Staples, Diane Houck, Susan Fatzinger, Katherine Smith, Cheryl Smith, Kathy Cooke, and Christian Berger. Child Care badges were received by Diane Houck and Kathy Cooke.

The troop put on a play "Dog Gone" for their parents and friends. The high light for the play was when "Mack," the dog was discovered, not in the dog pound as they feared but was returned by the laundry man, who had thought when he collected the laundry, the "Jenks" family had lots of wash that day.

The play was directed by Miss Sally Bruce, a senior Girl Scout aide who has been helping the troop, the girls surprised Sally by inviting her Senior Girl Scout Leader, Mrs. George Wakefield, to the party. The girls served punch, cup cakes, and pretzels to their guests.

Leaders of the troop are Mrs. Fred Fatzinger and Mrs. Robert Houck.

Miss Catino Is Bride Of Roy Vietro

Bangor—Miss Mary Grace Catino, daughter of Mrs. Carmel Catino of West Bangor and the late Charles L. Catino, became the bride of Roy Vietro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Vietro of 312 Division St., Bangor on May 25 at 11 a. m. at St. Joseph's Episcopal Church, West Bangor.

Rev. Francis C. Capozzi officiated at the ceremony with Janette Albanese as organist and Paula Aullisio as soloist.

A reception was held in their honor at the Blue Valley Farm Show building.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Vito Palma, the bride wore a dress of net over taffeta with a high neckline. A jeweled crown held her fingertip veil, and she carried a prayer book with a white orchid and streamers of lily of the valley.

Carmella Catino of Bangor, RD 3 as maid of honor wore a dark shirred dress. Rosemary Palma and Palma Cerulli, junior bridesmaids, both wore aqua blue gowns.

Tommy Comunale of Garibaldi Ave., Roseto was best man.

After their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Vietro will make their home at 312 Division St., Bangor.

The bride, a graduate of Pen Argyl High School is a machine operator at Call's Mill. The bridegroom, who attended Bangor High School is employed by Danny Juella-Louis Sportswear.

Bushkill PTA Sponsoring Picnic, Trip

Bushkill—President Eldon Larsh presided at the meeting of the Bushkill PTA, Mrs. Raymond Dickson, secretary gave a report and read the correspondence.

The results of the election of officers for the 1957-58 year were as follows: re-elected to office President Eldon Larsh; elected Mrs. William Laubner, vice-president, secretary Lawrence Butz, treasurer Luther VanWhy.

Mrs. Paul Floria received volunteers for additional workers for the school picnic which will be on Wednesday, June 5 at the Bushkill school, the PTA will furnish desert and beverages.

Mrs. Ralph G. Turn, Jr. presented the speaker, Mrs. Jean L. Albert, administrative secretary of Children's Aid Society. Mrs. Albert outlined the work which is done by the CAS in rendering services where they are needed. She illustrated her talk with colored slides which were taken locally by CAS personnel, and described in detail the attention which children receive under the care of the society. Mrs. Albert distributed pamphlets entitled "The Child Is The Future" which concisely explains the work of the CAS.

The Parent Teachers Association voted to treat the children of the school to a trip to the Pocono Wild Animal Farm. This trip was suggested by the teachers and will supplement the science lessons of the year which included studies of various animals. The children will be accompanied by their teachers.

The next meeting of the association will be on Wednesday, June 26 at 8:00 p. m.

Planning For Bazaar

Swiftwater—The penny supper served by the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Swiftwater Methodist Church hall on May 18 proved very successful. The members are now planning and working for their annual bazaar to be held on the church lawn on Wednesday, August 7.

Hold Opening Luncheon For Shawnee Golf

The Shawnee Women's Golf Assn. opened its new year with a luncheon yesterday afternoon at the Inn. Mrs. Saul Bourne, president, presided at the head table where others included: Mrs. Edward Williams, treasurer; Mrs. Gordon Savage, secretary; Mrs. Fred Waring, Miss Adelaide Shible, assistant team captain; and Mrs. Herbert Behrens, club champion.

The luncheon theme was pink and white with pink peonies around a pink candle on each table. A golf ball was presented to a "lucky you" at each table: Mrs. Alexander Coles, Mrs. Elmer Christine, Mrs. Herbert Behrens, Mrs. F. L. Patterson, Mrs. Robert Weichel, Margaret Cole, Mrs. C. Waite, Miss B. Trumbore, Mrs. R. Prescott, Mrs. Morehart and Mrs. G. Shillinger.

At the meeting following the luncheon, general plans for the year were announced. The weekly luncheon-tournaments will be held every Tuesday, starting June 11 at 9 a. m. There will also be a weekly putting tournament for non-playing members. The first tournament will be a kicker's.

Dates announced for the tri-club tournaments were: July 10, Pocono Manor; July 17, Shawnee; and Aug. 1, Northampton. The last Thursday of June, July and August will be ladies' day at Northampton for the members of the Shawnee Women's Golf Assn.

Mrs. Gordon Savage announced the invitation to the Glen Brook Laurel Day on June 20 with the deadline for entering on June 10.

Pocono Pines Scouts Spend Day At Zoo

Pocono Pines—A trip to the Philadelphia Zoo was held by Troop 15 of Pocono Pines. They boarded the DelHaven Bus at 8 a. m. Saturday and arrived at the zoo at 11:30. The girls, all in uniform, toured the zoo in five different groups. They had a picnic lunch featuring fried chicken and all the trimmings.

They got back at 9 p. m. Assisting their leader, Mrs. Orval Parker were Gladys Dyson, assistant; Marge LaFalette, Virginia Murphy, Edith Harold and Helen Lutkowski.

A grocer in Pittschoy, Scotland, advertised a marked-down sale of left-over Christmas puddings. No matter what the price we doubt that this bargain will be gobbled up.

MISS LILLIAN ROSE, candidate for State President of the Future Homemakers of America.

Area Student Boosted For High Office

Newfoundland—When the State Convention of Future Homemakers of America convene in University Park, State College, on June 10, 11 and 12 one of the highlights of the sessions will be the election of officers.

One of the two names on the ballot for the State presidency will be that of Lillian Rose, a member of the Greene-Dreher-Sterling Chapter of the FHA, and a junior class student at the local school.

Each year, various regional organizations have the privilege of presenting the names of girls for State offices. This year, Region "D," which includes fifteen counties, presented names for the presidency.

"The Greene-Dreher-Sterling Chapter is very proud of the fact that their local president, Lillian Rose, was chosen to be one of the candidates," said Miss Ruth McKinney, faculty advisor for the unit.

Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leland Rose, Greentown, has been an active member of the local unit, as well as of school activities. She has been a member of the chorus for three years; serves as cashier in the cafeteria, and was a member of the cast in the junior play. She has served on many school and class committees, and was acclaimed the champion magazine salesman for her class. She is on the honor roll, and as a member of the Tri-Hi-Y has been chaplain.

A Vocational Home Economics student who enjoys her work and is an enthusiastic student, Lillian has participated in the annual

Miss Muller Honored At Graduation

Miss Shirley Muller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curt Muller, Glen Brook Road, Stroudsburg, RD 2, was graduated from the Moore Institute of Arts, Science and Industry, in Philadelphia. She received two special awards: one the George W. Mixer prize for the student in arts education "possessing those qualities most befitting a teacher", and the second, the Print Club Graphics prize to a promising student in Graphics.

Miss Muller has accepted a position with the Triton Regional High School, Glendora, N.J., where she will begin teaching in September. She is a graduate of Stroudsburg High School in the class of 1952.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curt Muller and Mr. and Mrs. John Muller attended the graduation exercises.

Cub Pack At Fish Hatchery, Snow Hill Park

Cherry Valley—The Cherry Valley Cub Scout Pack 84 met at the Paradise Fish Hatchery on Sunday, May 26, with their parents and were conducted on a tour of the hatchery. They all met again at Snow Hill State Park for a meeting and supper.

Cubmaster Clyde Hahn Jr. presided at the meeting when awards were presented to the Cubs who had earned them. The Den Mothers decided to take the pack on a trip to Valley Forge on Monday, July 15. The next meeting will be held at Hickory Run State Park on the last Sunday in June.

St. Mary's Guild

The regular meeting of St. Mary's Guild, Christ Episcopal Church, will be held on Tuesday afternoon at the home of Miss Lucie Girard, 614 Bryant Street.

Wyckoff-Sears Fair and has won prizes for her entries.

She is a church member and is active in the Young People's Group. President of the local chapter of the FHA, Lillian has been elected parliamentarian for the 1957-58 school term for the Wayne County FHA. She holds the Junior and Chapter Home-maker Degrees, and is working on her State Degree, and has served on committees, assisted with programs, and participated in all activities in the FHA.

We Wyckoff employees need never debate what to give any of our executives on a special occasion. A flying carpet would be just the thing. Every few days Mr. E. H. himself is in New York, scouring the market for some of those delightful and surprising pieces of merchandise from all over the world . . . and every few days son Holt, J. L. Kerlin, and Bill Wells seem to be off to farflung points. All three have been in Hershey this week attending a merchandising meeting, accompanied by Walter Wyckoff. Prior to that, Holt was in Florida . . . Mr. Kerlin was in New England . . . Bill was attending the National Red Cross convention in Washington, D. C., addressed by President Eisenhower . . . and Mr. Wyckoff Sr. was touring historic Virginia in company of a busload of friends. Believe me, it's a rare feeling—but a good one—to have them all assembled under one roof these road-beckoning days of Spring.

Never have I seen Carl Rohrbach more excited than when he bounded into advertising the other afternoon with beaming face and gleaming shoes. The big smile was the direct result of the gloss on his brown footwear which, he informed me, had been pretty "beat up looking" just a few minutes before. "This new shoe polish is terrific," he enthused, waving a bit of note paper in my face. It's called — I finally saw—LanoWax, and it's a truly amazing new product of Esquire, peer in the shoe shining field. That additional sheen is probably due to the lanolin it contains, and it comes in brown, blue, black, red, and neutral. The price, just 25c. Carl tells me it conceals scratches and scuffs as no other polish ever has. As a matter of fact, the results were so dazzling on Carl's shoes, I'd say Lano Wax is as good as SHOE polishing as some people are at apple polishing.

AROUND AND ABOUT WYCKOFF'S: Those are very attractive "fake scarab" bracelets we're selling in our jewelry department at 1.00 and 1.98. They look almost as good as the 15.00 ones—if you don't look too closely, and they'll certainly do just beautifully until the real thing comes along . . . I was horrified to learn that the senior girls in one of our Monroe County high schools feel they require three new dresses each to graduate in style. Good heaven, I groaned, looking at my nine year old and realizing that when I graduated 25 years ago one dress was sufficient, what ARE things coming to? Maura will probably need a dozen if she graduates in 1966. Personally I think all these fuss and ruffles a bit ridiculous when one considers the cost of living today, the struggle the average man must make to keep his household afloat, and the fact that regulation gowns cover at least one of those dresses. We adults pamper our young entirely too much—and it's a wrong only a united parental front can set to right, I will say this, however—Bea Gorgy's accessories department can be a wonderful refuge for mothers plagued by their daughter's demands for evening wraps, et cetera. Bea has stocked a charming, delightfully inexpensive, assortment of shrugs, dainty boleros, jackets, capes, and stoles suited to both evening and street wear, and prices hover in the 2.98 to 6.98 bracket. For instance, there are linen boleros with short cuffed sleeves and Dutch Boy collars, in white or black, at 2.98; pique boleros in white at the same price, with the same smart collar and a lavish trim of heavy crocheted-type lace; absolutely adorable crisp nylon capes with a two-tier effect created by a generous use of the same lace, at 3.98; all-eyelid pique boleros, also 3.98. At 5.98 she has the fashionable Hi-Bulk shrugs of virgin orlon in medium and large; and wool shrugs in S, M, and L, finished with metallic threads. At the same price there are some stunning Italian stoles, that look fragile and filmy but have the warmth of silk and wool, and come in white, pink, black, beige, or blue with white, or all white, and at 5.00, there are Italian weave capes of white DuPont nylon . . . Betty Colvin tells me she has received a long-promised shipment of the brand new Playtex Cotton-Pretty Bra, priced at only 2.50 in sizes 32 A to 40 C. She also says it's the prettiest cotton bra you'll EVER see, and one of the most uplifting. That's what we like about Betty—she's so interested in giving her customers an UPLIFTING experience!

IS LITTLE League baseball worthwhile? Apparently a father who saw his boy learn the rudiments of the game in the East Stroudsburg LL thinks so.

Yesterday we received a letter from Bill Gerard, a former Eastburg resident, who has taken up living in Sarasota, Fla. He starts off "If you can stand the ravings of a proud father," and goes on to tell of his son, Jimmy.

The younger Gerard learned his baseball in the Eastburg LL and when the family moved to the southland, he continued his love of the sport. So much in fact that he is the only regular on the Sarasota High nine who can boast of an underclass status—sophomore—and the youngest age—15.

The older Gerard pens "This might be of interest to the local fans as Jimmy was taught the introductory phases of baseball as a member of the Cramer Lumber Little League team of East Stroudsburg. They did a good job."

Jimmy was on last year's championship Babe Ruth League team of Sarasota, and presently is trying out for the county American Legion team. Should he make the AL nine he would be the first 15-year-old starter in the history of the sport in Florida.

The happy dad goes on to say that former major league stars like Paul Waner and George Savelle note that young Gerard has the potential to carve out a professional baseball career. This past season scouts have been eyeing the youngster in every game.

Elder Gerard closes with the note of a photo showing Jimmy and his teammates of Sarasota High and the work of the Eastburg LL men was not in vain.

As he points out, "I feel they (LL managers and officials) would enjoy knowing their hard work with kids like Jimmy does pay off and Jimmy often says the start he got in that league (Eastburg LL) helped considerably in teaching him the fundamentals and increasing his interest in baseball."

A grateful father, some 1500 miles away, has found the time to say what he thinks has been a most beneficial experience for his boy. The letter is worth every kilometer it traveled. We would imagine LL alums in Eastburg, think so too.

The Art Wall-Brud Brown and Arnold Palmer-Jack Cuttle golf exhibition at Pocono Manor numbered quite a few people from the area in the gallery. Those making the 18 holes with the four-some were Lloyd (Sticks) Staples, Jimmy Dave, Charley Houston, regular threesome at Glen Brook weekly.

Also John Grandall and Leslie Brown, general manager and vice president of Pocono Manor; Mart Baldwin, the Olympic athletic equipment reconditioning man who is celebrating his 20 years in the "cleaning" business.

Also Jim Riley, Daily Record City Editor; Charley Potcher and Charley Deiter, Record composing room employees.

Al Smith, the Manor's assistant pro, handled the pins on the greens and Lou DePalma, the Tobyhanna Depot aide, helped police the area and sell duets.

The match itself was all Wall, Palmer, playing the course for the first time, played well but Art, the record holder with 33 holes in one, was much better.

Wall had a good shot at the course record of 66 set by Cuttle 15 years ago coming into the 16th. However, a gamble shot over the trees west into the woods and from there to the completion of the round, Art had to be satisfied with his still spectacular five under 68.

The Manor's traveling professional was hot with his putter and he could have had a better one if a couple of the beautiful near-misses, dunked in. His dump of a 35-footer on the ninth hole was a picture to behold. It was in this department and his approach shots that the PGA's rating leader was never faultless. The rest is history.

You Can't Always Buy Cigarettes With 30 Cents

CAN YOU get cigarettes out of a pay phone? At least that's what Angelo Lockwitch, one of the star golfers at Glen Brook Country Club, wonders today.

Angie, in the midst of a nerve straining foursome match at the course yesterday, took time out between nines to race into the club and get some cigarettes. The perennial Glen Brook champ put his money (30 cents) into a machine and after waiting a few minutes for the smoke to drop down, found to his amazement that he put the coins into a pay phone. In the foursome which no longer was strained after the episode were Ben E. Williams, Jiggs Metzger and Lloyd (Sticks) Staples.

Vets Wallop Bank, 23-7 For 3rd Win

LEAGUE LEADING, unbeaten Veteran of Foreign Wars chalked up its third straight decision in the Stroudsburg Little League by romping over First National Bank, 23-7, at LL Park last night.

A 10-run rally in the fourth inning practically put the game on ice for the Vets. They scored in every frame and, at one point, held a 18-3 bulge.

Bisbing Wins
Glen Bisbing went all the way for the VFW win behind the hitting of Feller, 4-for-4, Davenport, 3-for-4, and himself, 3-for-3. All told the Vets pounded out 17 safeties.

Chaplin, the starting and losing pitcher, and Torzillo led the losers with three hits each.

In a game Wednesday night at LL park, Security Trust knocked off a 9-1 win over Penn Stroud Hotel. It was the Trust's second win in two games.

Gallant Man, Bardstown On Turf Trail Today

GALLANT Man makes his first start since the Kentucky Derby today in the Peter Pan Handicap at Belmont Park while the Calumet Farm's Bardstown returns to action in the Camden Handicap at Garden State Park closes its 25-day spring meeting.

The $25,000 Peter Pan is the final prep for the $100,000-added Belmont Stakes June 15, and six 3-year-olds will try to earn a starting berth in that Triple Crown finale. Gallant Man, owned by Ralph Lowe, packs 124 pounds and will be ridden by Willie Shoemaker.

Bardstown, the handicap king until something better comes along, is making his first start since winning the Gulfstream Park Handicap March 23.

6-Homer Pocono Twp. Attack Sinks Tobyhanna High, 31-4

TANNERSVILLE—Monroe Scholastic Baseball League champions, Pocono Twp. High, waited to its seven straight loop win here yesterday by submerging Tobyhanna, 31-4.

Harry Weckheiser's nine scored in every frame and for all intent and purposes put the tilt in mothballs in the second frame when they tallied 14 times.

Lend Attack
Pete Ask, with two homers and a pair of singles, and Larry Starnier, with a homer, triple and two singles, spearheaded a 22-hit Pocono Twp. attack.

Also chipping in with three safeties apiece were Paul Frailley, Bob Bryson and Ed Pooley. Pooley and Frailley included homers in their output, while Bryson connected for two doubles in his outburst. Charley Zeek also helped out with another four-ply wallop.

Frailley, Starnier and Bryson and Ask divided the mound duties with Frailley getting credit for the win. Altomare picked up two of the four hits allowed by the winning team's hurlers.

Finish Monday
Pocono Twp. winds up its league play Monday when they entertain Barrett at Tannersville. Game time is 2 p.m.

Major Keglers Hit Poconos This Weekend

A HORDE of the nation's top-flight bowlers, representing the finest teams across the country, will invade the Poconos today and tomorrow to vie for part of the booty in the $40,000-plus Pocono Mountain Bowling Tournament at the Barrett Bowling Center, Canadensis.

Hitting the Barrett pin emporium today are Carmen Salvino and his Meister Brau team; Joe Kristoff and his Pabst Blue Ribbon mates; Joe Ostroski and an entourage of the best pin-topplers from Philadelphia, plus teams from Carbondale, Dunmore, Dupont and Wilmington, Del.

Tomorrow will feature Lee Jougard and a team from Detroit, Mich.; Thern Gibson and Fred Bujack's Pfeiffer Brewery squad from Detroit; and groups from Cleveland, Mogadore, Ohio, Montrose, Manville, N. J., Allentown and Harper Woods, Mich.

Better Known
Salvino, Kristoff, Ostroski, Bujack, Gibson, Jougard are the better known of the group who will seek a share in the most lucrative tournament of its kind.

Meister Brau, a Chicago, Ill., outfit, is the leading team in the Windy City area. Salvino, their leader, also paces the team in most departments of play.

Kristoff and his Pabst buddies won numerous laurels in many of the nation's outstanding pin classics, while Ostroski, an American Bowling Congress tournament favorite, is rated one of the best in the Quaker City.

Peterson Victor
Thern Gibson, winner of the Peterson Tournament 1945 event, and a 252-game average bowler in eight games with the United States Team, has a norm of 200 in 586 All-Star games, and has been on seven championship teams in the ABC play.

Bujack, known as well in Europe as in the U. S. because of his clinics abroad, holds many ABC titles, including the ABC All-Events crown in 1955 with a 1993 score.

Pilarek Leads Birds Past Yanks

NEW YORK, May 31 (AP)—Al Pilarek drove in two runs with a homer and sacrifice fly tonight as the Baltimore Orioles defeated the New York Yankees 3-1 behind the tight five-hit pitching of Ray Moore.

Pilarek, a stubby, 26-year-old sophomore, belted his second home run of the season—and second in two games—off loser Bob Turley to get the Orioles started in the third inning. His sacrifice fly came in the fifth, after Jim Bredwiler doubled and moved to third on Moore's sacrifice. Bredwiler and Billy Gardner each had two of Baltimore's seven hits.

Pascual's Injury Shows No Fracture
WASHINGTON, May 31 (AP)—Camilo Pascual, struck by a batted ball while pitching the Washington Senators to a 5-3 victory over the New York Yankees yesterday, suffered a bruised arm muscle but no fracture, X-rays showed today.

Pascual had to leave the game after pitching a two-hit shutout over 5-1-3 innings. It wasn't certain whether he would be able to work his next turn on the mound Tuesday.

East Stroudsburg Little League Opens Campaign Today

Parade, Official Ceremonies To Ignite 2-Tilt Inaugural

EAST STROUDSBURG Little League will embark on another diamond campaign today with a parade, flag-raising ceremonies and Burgess Jesse Flory's toss of the first ball igniting the 1957 season.

Starting at 12:15 p.m. at East Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church a parade will wind its way through the streets of the borough to Little League Park. At 12:45, ceremonies at the field will begin and will be followed by two games, inaugurating the new season.

All four teams in the circuit will see action in the opening twoball. In the first game, R. C. Cramer Lumber Company will take on Heller-Lloyd-Howell combine, while in the nightcap, East Stroudsburg Methodist Church will face National Bank.

Two bands—Kemp Post Drum and Bugle Kaydets and East Stroudsburg Junior High—will lead the entourage on their march to the park. Players from both the major and minor leagues of the LL organization will also parade in uniform. Borough officials and LL aides will be intermingled with the marchers.

Parade Route
Eastburg LL president said last night that the route of the parade will be from the Presbyterian Church on Anomink St. to Crystal, down Washington, on to North Courtland to West Broad, down Walnut and back to Little League Park.

Little League vice president "Phiz" Nauman will welcome the fans and players, followed by the flag-raising and Burgess Flory's throwing of the first ball.

Teams in the "Major" league who will march are R. C. Cramer, Heller-Lloyd-Howell, Methodist Church and National Bank. "Minor" loop entries slated to parade are Counterman Drug Store, Nauman's Sporting Goods, Hughes Printery, International Boiler Works, Cleveland Plumbing and R. C. Cramer Lumber.

Ridgley Gains British Golf Amateur Final

FORMBY, England, May 31 (P)—Harold Ridgley, a lone American Air Force master sergeant, played a Ben Hogan kind of golf to reach the final of the British Amateur championship today with a 13 and 12 victory over Arthur Walker, a wealthy South African.

The short, compact Pennsylvanian, who does not have an American country club membership or an American golf record, meets Reid Jack of Glasgow, Scotland, tomorrow for the amateur title, second in the world only to the United States Amateur.

Jack, one of Scotland's better golfers, won from a fellow Glasgow player, Alan Russell, 20, 3 and 2, in the other 36-hole semifinal.

The 6,803-yard course by the Irish Sea is Ridgley's kind of layout and tonight he was favored by about everyone—except the golf-rabid Scots—to whip Jack tomorrow. Formby, with a par of 35-37-72, is a big course with narrow fairways and punishing rough. It demands accuracy.

Ridgley, 43, whose home town is Haverford, Pa., but is now on Air Force duty in England, put together a victory unequalled in British amateur play since America's Lawson Little rolled over Jimmy Wallace, a Scottish shipyard worker, 14 and 13, in the 1934 final at Prestwick.

Hanks Share $46,529??

INDIANAPOLIS, May 31 (P)—The Indianapolis Motor Speedway and automotive accessory companies tonight paid a record $300,252 purse for yesterday's 500-mile race, of which winner Sam Hanks and his car owner received another record $103,844.

The previous records were the $282,052 total purse last year and winner Pat Flaherty's $93,819 share of that total.

Hanks, 42, from Pacific Palisades, Calif., reportedly will get 45 per cent of the first place money. The car was entered by George Salih of Los Angeles and sponsored by Sandy Beland of Los Angeles.

Hanks also won the Mercury convertible pace car and numerous other prizes, including a $1,000 wardrobe, tools, an arc welder and accessories, a midsize race car and a mattress.

The winner's total included the speedway's contribution of $58,250 for race and qualifying prizes, $819 from an entry fee fund, $20,400 in lap prizes at $150 each lap, and $24,375 in prizes from accessory firms.

Cards Top Braves

MILWAUKEE, May 31 (P)—Eddie Kasko delivered four hits in four trips tonight as he stalked the St. Louis Cardinals to a 4-3 victory over the Milwaukee Braves in a game that produced a total of 20 hits. The Cards collected 11 hits as they hung the loss on Milwaukee rookie Juan Pizarro who is now 2-4 for the season.

Lindy McDaniel, who went all the way for the Cardinals, won his fourth against two losses, but gave up nine hits.

30-Car Field Set For Dorney Races

ALLENTOWN — Warren Mutter, Boyertown speed merchant who won Wednesday night's 25-lap feature race here, will be back tonight on the fifth of a mile asphalt track at Dorney Park seeking his second triumph of the week and third of the young season. Mutter previously won a 25-lap feature here in the opening event of the season.

The Boyertown flash will face some stiff competition tonight, however, since there will be more than thirty cars and drivers entered by the Lehigh Valley Stock Car Racing association. Freddie Adams, Kutztown; Jack Rudy and Smokey Dengler, Reading; Dick Keen, Bethlehem; Harold Scott, Finesville, N.J.; Tom Rooney and Jack Mann, of Allentown, are just a few of the Dorney Park favorites entered for Saturday night.

One week from Saturday night the flashy little midsize cars, Offies and Fords, make their first appearance of the season on the Dorney Park track.

Bushkill To Drill

BUSHKILL of the Pocono Mountain League will hold a practice session at the home field today, starting at 3 p.m. All players are requested to report.

Gotham Group Seen Opposed Aiding Clubs

By MURRAY ROSE

NEW YORK, May 31 (P)—New York City's hopes of keeping the Dodgers and Giants from moving to California grew dimmer today.

A survey by the New York Post showed that members of the Board of Estimate, who will have to pass on any financial measures to build stadiums, are overwhelmingly opposed to granting subsidies to keep the two clubs.

The board members mostly would follow the policy of Mayor Robert Wagner, and he too, doesn't appear to be inclined to make an exception for two of the big town's three major league clubs.

"If we began to subsidize baseball teams," the mayor said in an interview with the Post, "all sorts of business enterprises would demand the same things. Our feeling is that professional ball clubs class as private enterprise. They have to carry their own weight."

The mayor has invited Walter O'Malley, Dodgers president, and Horace Stoneham, Giants president, to talk things over with him on Tuesday. This is liable to be a showdown session, although both Stoneham and O'Malley have said "we have all summer to think about it."

Both clubs received a green light from the National League Tuesday to make the shift to Los Angeles—Dodgers and San Francisco—Giants.

Wagner already has gone on record as saying the city will not allow itself to be "blackjacked" into helping the two clubs financially. The clubs are irked at the 5 per cent admissions tax and would like city help in building new stadiums with ample parking facilities to replace antiquated Ebbets Field and the Polo Grounds.

The New York Times quoted O'Malley as saying "if anyone wants to stroke me tenderly on the forehead with a $5,000,000 blackjack, I'll take that kind of treatment."

Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles, who visited here to woo the Dodgers first hand, said his city planned to spend $3,500,000 to promote and house the Dodgers. And there would be no admissions tax.

If there were any developments today in the proposed shifts, the ball club officials weren't talking. O'Malley said "we are playing our games now at Ebbets Field and Jersey City. That's all I care to say."

As for the meeting with the mayor, O'Malley said "I've been invited. I'll go." At the same time the Dodger boss denied reports from San Francisco that a pay-as-you-see television firm is bankrolling the possible transfer of the Dodgers to Los Angeles.

Roberts, Jones Top Brooks, 2-1

PHILADELPHIA, May 31 (P)—Willie Jones' two-run triple broke Don Drysdale's spell over the Philadelphia Phillies and led the Phils to a 2-1 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers tonight behind Robin Roberts' fine pitching.

Jones got his hit, to right field, in the fourth inning with two on and two out. Gran Hamner's one-out double started the rally and was the first hit for the Phillies off Drysdale in 10 2-3 innings. He beat them here last Monday night, 5-1, on two hits, both in the second inning.

Dupas, Ferrer In Draw

PARIS, May 31 (P)—Ralph Dupas of New Orleans fought former French lightweight champion Seraphin Ferrer to a draw in a 10-round fight tonight. Dupas weighed 146 pounds, Ferrer 143.

Strouds-Lake Harmony Tops 5-Tilt PM Card Tomorrow

LAKE HARMONY'S unbeaten mark in the Pocono Mountain Baseball League will be in jeopardy tomorrow when the circuit swings into action with a five-game card.

Lake Harmony, sitting on the top perch with a 6-0 record, will host the Strouds, third place occupants with 4-1, in the feature attraction of the day.

In another stellar duel, second place Bushkill (5-1) will entertain Saylorburg, 3-2 on the season.

In other contests in the circuit, Anomink will be the guests of Kunkletown, Reeders will travel to Barrett, and Tannersville invades West End. All games start at 2 p.m.

West Virginia To Play Maryland

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., May 31 (P)—West Virginia University will renew its football series with Maryland in 1959 and 1960, Robert N. "Red" Brown, athletic director, said today. They will play Sept. 19, 1959 at College Park, Md., and the Mountaineers will be hosts at Morgantown Sept. 17, 1960.

Possible Tie

A Lake Harmony loss to the Strouds and a Bushkill victory over Saylorburg will drop Lake Harmony into a tie for first with Bushkill. However, if Lake Harmony wins and Bushkill loses, the current pacesetters will pull out to a commanding two-game lead.

A Strouds win and a Bushkill loss will shoot the Stroudsburg entry in second place, a half game off the pace of Lake Harmony.

Other Records
The records of the other teams are West End, fourth place, 4-2; Saylorburg and Tannersville, tied for fifth, 3-2 each; Reeders, seventh, 2-4; Anomink, eighth, 1-5; Barrett, ninth, 0-5; and Kunkletown, last, 0-6.

Chisox Lead Four Behind Keegan

CHICAGO, May 31 (P)—Pitching his first complete game since last Aug. 23, righthander Bob Keegan tonight choked off the Detroit Tigers on four hits for a 6-0 victory that stretched the Chicago White Sox league lead to four games.

Johnny Kilbane, Ex-Feather Champion Dies Of Cancer

CLEVELAND, May 31 (P)—Johnny Kilbane, who held the world's featherweight boxing championship from 1912 to 1923, died at his home today of cancer. He was 68.

Kilbane, who came from the city's west side and brought Cleveland its only world fight championship, never knew what his illness was. He had been sick since February and was hospitalized two weeks for an operation in March.

At the time of his death he was municipal clerk of courts, a post he had held since 1952.

White-haired Johnny, known as Cleveland's No. 1 fighting Irishman, kept up his fighting spirit in the months long battle with the disease that took his life at 2:30 p.m. today at the west side home he and his wife, Irene, share with their daughter, Mrs. Mary O'Toole.

"He was wonderful—just marvelous—about his illness," Mrs. O'Toole said. "We never told him it was cancer."

Kilbane had 168 bouts in the prize ring and won all but four of them.

FUN AND PROFIT IN IMPROVING A HOUSE

WITH GUN IN HAND, Seaman Jimmie L. Henderson (top, left), 21, surrenders aboard the attack transport U.S.S. Uvalde in San Francisco after killing an officer, wounding two other men and shooting wildly from the ship's bridge for more than six hours. Henderson (seen in close-up at top, right), of Marin City, Calif., was embittered by his demotion and four-month sentence for theft. He hit his guard, Machinist Mate Jake Verbeek (bottom, right), with a wrench and grabbed his gun to begin the spree. Ensign Arthur L. Morris (bottom, left), 26, of Stow, Ohio, died of wounds.

Your Horoscope Today

By FRANCIS DRAKE

FOR SATURDAY, JUNE 1, 1957

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—While this day's influences are not entirely auspicious, delicate matters, home and family affairs can be bettered in many ways. Sound finances may be successfully promoted. But be sensibly cautious in all things.

April 21 to May 21 (Taurus)—An ideal setup for your interests and the special talents with which you are endowed. Family and personal matters under good aspects; also buying, selling, making new investments.

May 22 to June 21 (Gemini)—You will be under no strain mentally or physically if you act calmly, cheerfully, be conservative and moderate. Friends go together, outdoor activities especially favored.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—A "confy" period for such relaxing activities as music, wholesome entertainment, reading and out-of-door sports. Do necessary household and other "must" tasks cheerfully.

July 24 to August 23 (Leo)—Sun's position indicates certain restrictions. Don't go overboard in any activity or strain to get more done than is necessary. Keep it a friendly day.

August 24 to September 23 (Virgo)—This should be a restful, not too mentally active day appropriate for shopping, charity affairs, wholesome fun, children's entertainment.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—A bright outlook if you remain your inately understanding self. Delicate matters, the artistic professions, health hobbies and outdoor activities, also necessary occupational tasks highly favored.

October 24 to November 23 (Scorpio)—Your Saturn and the Sun's aspects now stress a need for self-control, mental restfulness. Day has many happy indications for attainment in all your interests. Be cheerful!

November 24 to December 31 (Sagittarius)—Fine Jupiter vibrations. Benefits and monetary gains can be had through smart planning and management. Business interests highly favored. You can have a good day.

December 31 to January 31 (Capricorn)—Saturn's position suggests avoidance of extravagance. Otherwise, the day is helpful, stimulating, and can be turned into a freshly profitable period.

January 31 to February 19 (Aquarius)—There may be people who irritate you, situations that irritate. But you shouldn't let either ruffle your disposition. Use free time well; take an interest in children's affairs.

February 20 to March 20 (Pisces)—Neptune's aspect stresses caution in confidential matters; handling or manufacturing, beverages, other anything. Otherwise, the influences are generous for all useful and worthwhile activities.

YOU BORN TODAY are among the Zodiac's most delightful, interesting and versatile types. You have so much talent that it must be handled with subtlety, thoughtfulness. You are restless, at times changeable in mood, but innately faithful, loyal to high principles and a hard worker for achievement. You will help others as you climb the ladder of fame. Curb impatience.

Patterson, president of Washington and Jefferson College and president of the Association of Colleges and Universities.

Oils, Steels Set Pace For Stock Market

NEW YORK, May 31—The stock market pushed ahead still further today under the leadership of oils and steels.

Industrial carried the burden of the advance while rails and utilities were pretty well mixed. The renewed progress to the upside, made in advance of a weekend and immediately following the Memorial Day holiday, was surprising to Wall Streeters.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 60 cents to $184.30 with the Industrials up 60 cents, the rails up 10 cents and the utilities unchanged.

Of 1,111 issues traded, advances outnumbered declines by 513 to 359. For the first time this week, new 1957 highs were more numerous than new lows, the score being 58 to 33.

Volume totaled 2,060,000 shares compared with 2,270,000 on Wednesday.

Of the 15 most active stocks, 10 rose, 4 fell and one was unchanged. Seven of the top 15 were unchanged. The recent trend, Shell Transport & Trading was the most active stock, up 1/4 at 26 1/4 on 35,300 shares.

A big feature on the American Stock Exchange was a rise of 22 points to a close of 141 for Todd Shipyards. The firm reported record earnings rising to $18.46 a share compared with $7.07 a year ago. Other quotations on the American were generally higher. Volume totaled 920,000 shares compared with 1,000,000 on Wednesday.

Corporate bonds were lower in light trading. U. S. Government bonds edged in thin dealings over the counter.

NEW CONCEPT — An entirely new concept of telephone design and efficiency will be on display at The Inn, Buck Hill Falls, on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

New Concept Of Telephone Design To Be Explained

AN ENTIRELY new concept of telephone design and efficiency, the Ericofon, will be on display Tuesday and Wednesday in the Inn at Buck Hill Falls for Pennsylvania members of the U. S. Independent Telephone Assn. North Electric Co., Galion, O., is displaying the Ericofon during the Pennsylvania Independents' annual state convention.

Not since the first telephone was conceived has there been such a completely new development in instrument design and utility. The Ericofon was designed and developed by the world renowned L. M. Ericsson Telephone Co. of Stockholm, Sweden.

Table Model

This one-piece desk or table model dial telephone is an exciting departure from the conventional two-piece handset-pedestal combination. Standing nine and one-quarter inches in height, the Ericofon requires a minimum of space since the base measures four and one-half inches by three and seven-eighths inches, less than one-half the size of the standard telephone. Located in the underside of the Ericofon base, the dial can now be viewed and operated from the most convenient angle possible since it actually "comes to the user" when the Ericofon is lifted for use, instead of the usual reaching for the dial. Beside telephoning is both pleasant and easy with the Ericofon. The Ericofon dial is "letter-perfect", the dial numbers being located outside the finger-hole for complete legibility while dialing. The dial itself is extremely quiet and smooth in operation.

Because of the Ericofon's single unit construction, a "Stand-switch" was devised and placed in the underside of the base in the center of the dial. This "Stand-switch" performs the usual line-connecting operations—when the Ericofon is lifted, allowing the "Stand-switch" to release, the Ericofon is connected; when placed back on its base, the Ericofon is disconnected by the depressed "Stand-switch."

Light in weight, the complete Ericofon weighs less than most handsets alone. The case is molded of a thermoplastic material noted for its high resistance to impact, scratches and stains, and is available in six colors—ivory, green, light grey, red, blue and dark grey. These beautiful colors harmonize with or complement every color scheme, every decorating motif. Because of the unique construction of the Ericofon, it is possible to interchange cases for different colors, if desired. The graceful curving shape of the case fits naturally in either hand for utmost convenience, utility and efficiency. The receiver is permanently sealed inside the upper part of the case; the transmitter is located in the inside lower front part of the base; both positions determined for efficient operation as well as for comfort and simplicity.

Applications Available For Special Course

APPLICATIONS are now being taken from persons enrolling for the free waiter-waitress training to start on Monday, June 10 at the cafeteria of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, John P. Dougherty, manager of the East Stroudsburg office of the Employment Service stated yesterday.

The short training course is being offered by the East Stroudsburg office in cooperation with the State Department of Public Instruction. Norbert J. Zeimes, Field Supervisor for the Department of Public Instruction, will teach the course.

Visit

Dougherty urged persons who have been hesitating about enrolling in the course to visit the East Stroudsburg office at 79 S. Courtland St. on Monday or phone Stroudsburg 1818.

"We look on this training as especially appealing to middle-aged people whose family responsibilities may have lessened to the point where they can take on this kind of work," Dougherty said. "But," he added, "we welcome all persons over 18 years of age who are in good general health and are able to meet the physical requirements of the work of waiter or waitress."

East Borough Police Search For Stones

EAST Stroudsburg police have been asked to investigate the case of the missing stones.

Not any precious stones like rubies or diamonds, but heavy, bulky flagstones.

Confirmation

Police confirmed that several of these stones, some of them measuring as much as 20 by 36 inches, were reported stolen from the walk in front of the Albert E. Swartz property adjacent to the police station.

Police say they will weigh the case heavily.

Polk Alumni Banquet Today

GILBERT—Alumni of the former Polytechnic Institute here and of the Polk Township High School at Kresgeville will hold their annual banquet today at 6:30 p.m. in the West End Fire Co. auditorium. Dr. F. W. Shafer, of Stroudsburg, a member of the last class to graduate from the Institute before it closed in 1921, will be the principal speaker at the banquet.

Flag Pole To Be Gift To College

OFFICIALS found themselves in an odd predicament this past weekend at East Stroudsburg State Teachers College: They had no flagpole.

According to Dr. LeRoy J. Koehler, president, officials discovered that the flag pole had broken and collapsed just before Alumni and Commencement Day festivities began on campus.

That made it impossible to run up the American or Commonwealth flags for their display during the festivities, Dr. Koehler said. "It was a double disaster for us, because this was the most important weekend of the college year," Dr. Koehler said.

Conference

After conferring with Gilbert Smrz, Line Material Co., Dr. Koehler announced that the firm had volunteered "to furnish us with a new metal flag pole at their expense."

Not only that but the company will also install the pole, Dr. Koehler said Smrz had informed him.

"The students, faculty and administrative staff are very proud of the gift and are especially appreciative of the fact that a local concern is interested in the college to the extent that they will present us with a flag pole and see that it is installed immediately," Dr. Koehler said.

Auction Of Packages

TORONTO, May 31 (U.P.)—The annual auction of packages left aboard Canadian National Railway trains on the Riviere de Loupe-Port Arthur Line produced profit for one man and a blushing exit for another. The first paid $5.50 for a crate found to contain a $450 power machine. The other paid a couple of dollars for a suitcase laden with women's underwear and fashions, and retreated amid laughter after opening it.

Stroudsburg Resident On TV Show

By Bill Berry

A YOUNG Stroudsburg couple went to New York empty-handed and returned with an early American dinette set.

Not that Kent and Elin Miller, of 216 Park Ave., dislike dealing with the local merchants; rather, the set was a gift from one of the New York quiz shows.

The Millers had decided to celebrate the graduation of Kent, 28, from East Stroudsburg State Teachers College. On Monday they left for New York City, and, as part of the itinerary, they spent part of Wednesday morning viewing the show, "The Price Is Right."

Finalists

Elin, 23, was among the four finalists selected to return on Friday morning, and return she did. The mother of three-year-old Eileen and year-and-a-half Jamie bid $131 for the dinette set worth $215, and her bid, as compared with her three rivals, was the closest.

"It was well worth the trip," says Mrs. Miller.

Israel Invitation

JERUSALEM, May 31 (U.P.)—Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion has invited Poland to send farm youths to Israel for study at collective farms. He suggested to a visiting Polish delegation that the first contingent should be about 30 youngsters.
